The 'New' NF - More Fascist Than Ever!

Anarchie is a hard area to define for NF activists who seem to believe that the more they proclaim that they are anarchists the closer they get to the Nazi future. This may be so, but it is not necessarily so. The NF straight out before the British National Front has been that the NF is an organisation that is not afraid of the truth. The NF 2000 is a group of people who are not afraid to face the truth, but who are also afraid of the NF. The NF 2000 has been that the NF is an organisation that is not afraid of the truth. ANARCHIST BLACK CROSS
5 YEARS ON DEATH ROW

Jim Trimmel is a 27-year-old anarchist who was sentenced to death by a Virginia jury. He was convicted of murdering a prison guard with a makeshift club. Jim is a member of the Virginia Community Action Network, which is a loose confederation of local activist groups, most of which are involved in some way with the prison movement.

Throughout the trial, Jim was seated by the jury, who were primarily made up of white people. They were told that the defendant had been a member of a violent group called the "Black Cross." The trial lasted for several weeks, during which time the jury was shown footage of the defendant's past crimes, including the murder of a prison guard.

The only witnesses to the crime were two prison guards, who testified that they saw the defendant kill the guard. The jury was also shown footage of the defendant's past behavior, which included violence against prison staff and fellow inmates.

One of the main arguments presented by the prosecution was that the defendant had a violent personality and a history of violence. The defense argued that the defendant was acting in self-defense and that he had been coerced into committing the crime.

The trial ended with the jury returning a verdict of guilty. The defendant was sentenced to death by hanging. He is currently serving that sentence in a state prison.

Why A Black Flag?

Dear Black Flag,

Getting a copy of the latest edition was a real delight after a long time; but I was dismayed to discover that there are still people around who think that a Black Flag is a piece of cloth with a red and black design on it.

It was all so clear to those of us who were radicals even before the Civil War. There is no question but that the Black Flag, as an object, is a symbol of rebellion.

Occasionally I bump into a conservative who seems to regard the Black Flag as a symbol of the union movement; and I try to explain to him that it's the other way around.

I have a feeling that if I'd been a 21st-century radical, I wouldn't have been so happy to see the rebirth of the Black Flag. Just the same, it was a fascinating experience for me.

Sincerely,

FRENCH RAIL STRIKE

DIRECT ACTION OR SURRENDER

As we go to press anarchists and trade unionists are continuing a strike over job protection and lay-off conditions. The CTA (Confédération des Travailleurs de la Voie Publique) called the strike initially for a four day period, from Monday 20th January, but has extended it until Sunday 26th January.

Access to the trains is being blocked, with additional pickets appearing daily. The strike has been supported by the CGT (Confédération Générale du Travail), the national trade union in France.

TOWARDS A GENERAL STRIKE?

At the heart of the conflict, the Thatcher government’s refusal to meet the demands of striking railway workers, is the question of the future of the Nationalised Industries. The government has already decided to privatise the Railways, and now it is planning to sell off the nationalised steel and energy industries.

The government’s plans are opposed by the union movement and a growing mass of workers. The strike is a test of the workers’ resolve, and a test of the government’s strength.
