VOICE OF INDUSTRY.

DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN.

NEW YORK, MARCH 19, 1868.

LOCAL.--FOR THE WEEKS NINETEEN AND TWENTY.

In 1868, the young Man of Law engaged in the practice of the law, in the State of New York, is met with many obstacles. It is not an easy matter for him to find clients, to secure clients, and to retain clients. He is not only met with the objections of the old and experienced lawyers, but also with the objections of the public, who are not familiar with the law.

INDUSTRIAL REFORM LIVING.

We make a change this week in our Department of Industrial Reform Living. We shall leave it in the hands of the New York State Industrial Reform Society, which has undertaken the management of this Department.

CITIZEN'S REFLECTION.

The present state of the country, and particularly of the State of New York, is such that it is necessary for every citizen to reflect upon his duties and obligations.

COMMON.

We are happy to hear that the new law which has been passed by the General Assembly of the State of New York, making it compulsory for all persons to vote, is now in operation. We believe that this law will have a beneficial effect on the public morals and the public welfare.

The present state of the country, and particularly of the State of New York, is such that it is necessary for every citizen to reflect upon his duties and obligations.
