NEWQUAY HOUSE: 'Rats on the roof'

RIGHT ROYAL EMPTIES UP FOR GRABS!!!!!!

The rich 10% of this country, own over 50% of the land, who more than the royal family? It has been revealed recently that the duchy of Cornwall who manage Prince Charles's estates for him, own, a large area of property in Kenington south London SE, 11. The Prince is said to own 600 houses and flats, over 200 of which are supposed to be empty. One of the largest areas of empty newquay house Black Prince Rd, a block containing 76 flats, 23 of which are empty, these are mostly top floor flats, the flats have been left open deliberately while talks are going on between a housing association, a treasury funded corporation and the Halifax building society. Duchy of Cornwall policy is to leave flats empty until the whole block is empty and can be sold. One that has not been done up is for sale at £160,000.

Prince Charles recently gave support for providing 20 bedsits to house young homeless people in 2 of the empty houses. What a hypocritical gesture!!! when the bastard has 200 EMPTY HOUSES.. But even this measly offer ended up being shelved because of objections from the tenants. Most of the tenants are Duchey of Cornwall workers, retired household staff or retired Civil Servants. Most of them display Neighborhood Watch Scheme stickers, an odd sort of loyalty!!

The "Manor of Kennington" covers a large area, surrounding a council estate with 23 story blocks of flat, while whole are upto half empty.

Signs to look for are "No parking or ballgames by order of the Duchy of Cornwall", three plumed feathers (like on the back of a 2p coin). Green front doors, and possibly grey slate signs. Happy Hunting.. While you're there why not pop into the Duchy Arms and do a little graffiti or nick a few glasses.

STOP THE CITY NEGOTIATES NEW TERMS

A group of us have decided that the time has come, what with the sheer boredom of seeing those greedy fucking swine swanking from share issue to share issue blah blah, TO HAVE ANOTHER GO. WE WILL, ON the first thursday in June, the 3rd Tuesday in July, and the fourth Wednesday in September. And when the first banker is jailed for insider trading... soon.

We cannot risk our efforts on the crooked mile, not after all those arrests previouswise.

The main attacks will occur in places in the U.K. that we have found sub-offices of the city warmongers. SO look in the yellow pages for your battle zone targets.

Plan carefully, make sure you pick richly rewarding associates, firms with a real viable profit grabbing future, yeah, bizz's with get up and go (to the Bahamas) attitudes, you know the bastards. CONTACT CROWBAR FOR FURTHER DETAILS SEND AN S.A.E. FOR YOUR PERSONAL INSTRUCTIONS

ON HOW TO MAXIMISE YOUR INCREASED SCOPE ON THE WINDOW OF OPPORTUNITY

I AM GOD'S PROPHET

James Anderton, chief constable of Greater Manchester and one of the most powerful men in the country has been converted to Roman Catholicism and now claims to have a hotline to God himself. He has recently pushed out his deputy, John Stalker, who was previously smeared and pulled off an inquiry into the police murder squads in N. Ireland, and is now coming out openly with his truly fascistic views. For instance his recent public remarks that Aids victims are suffering in "a cesspool of their own making".

POLICE INSPECTOR LOVELOCK WALKS FREE

On Sat. 23rd Jan about 100 people picketed Brixton police Station and then marched round Brixton to protest the let off of Inspector Lovelock, the cop who shot and paralysed Cherry Groce, thus causing the 1985 Brixton riot. The police and media made sure he got off, by only charging him with 'maliciously wounding', by vetting the jury, by calling queues of star witnesses to say how UPSET the POOR POOR man was, how fearful, nervous and unlucky etc. The effect of the verdict is to imply that cops can now gun down as many black people they like, even an innocent mother in her own home, and get away with it.

BUT A DEAD COP MEANS HELL TO PAY.

Meanwhile in a separate case six people are being done for the death of P.C. Blakelock in the Tottenham riot of Oct 85. The Blakelock case is the latest in a string of trials in which dozens of people have got long sentences for defending their estate against massive police attack after they tried to march out of the estate to protest the death of Cynthia Jarrett during a police raid on her home. The six are being made scapegoats, with daily horror headlines, though none of them were involved in the killing. Three of them are children (two 15 and one 16) and were forced to make statements after days of interrogations, when picked up in mass police raids after the riots. The other three are Winston Silcott, seen as a leader, and a longtime radical community activist, 27, Engin Raghip, 20, and Mark Braithwaite, 19. All of course have been 16 months now in prison, and the last three may get life or longer. Despite the HACKING HORROR headlines everyone knows the police seek revenge for losing at Broadwater Farm, when their entire force was put to flight by determined youths. PC Blakelock died in direct revenge for the death of Cynthia Jarrett (and because the other cops ran away and left him). Protests at the trial have continued, but have not been reported, and the repression continues.

"femin@xe ate my hamster"

The last issue of Monochrome had an insert called Feminaxe which was done by a bunch of @ ♀ from Brixton. If you haven't seen a copy there's still plenty about in the usual alternative outlets in South London and they're free. There was loads of articles crammed into 4 pages, covering things like ♀ actions, shoplifting, travelling with kids, working in the sex industry—all really interesting stuff and a lot different from the material usually found in @ ♀ mags.

Another Feminaxe is planned in magazine format for the pretty near future (when ever they get it together) and everyone should buy it cos it'll be really great. An unbiased correspondent.

NEWS FROM HOLLAND.

On the weekend of the winter solstice 16,000 gift vouchers were forged and distributed all over Holland. The vouchers were for a major Dutch department store Vroom and Dreesman, vouchers were worth £25 and £50. On Monday 22nd December everyone with vouchers got up early (for once) and did their Christmas shopping, in Vroom and Dreesman, shop workers were heard to say 'there's a lot of vouchers here today!' But by 3p.m. the fun was over someone was caught with a voucher in Utrecht, many people were arrested but released without charge.

New anti-squatting laws have been passed, the owner now doesn't need the squatters names to get a possession order, and the eviction order lasts for a year.

A year ago Hans Kok (a Dutch squatter) died in cop custody. Posters were made to commemorate this, they said Hans Kok murdered by cops, lets get them and it gave the names and addresses of the cops who killed Hans. The cops came down heavy and nicked anyone flyposting them, the Koevoet (Squatters cafe) was raided 'cos they had one of these posters in their windows.

Nijmegen- This is a small border town in Holland. In September 1986, a tower block belonging to Shell, the great big petrol company, was squatted on National Squatting day. It had been left empty since it was built 3 years ago. They were threatened with eviction around January, and began action around the ev-

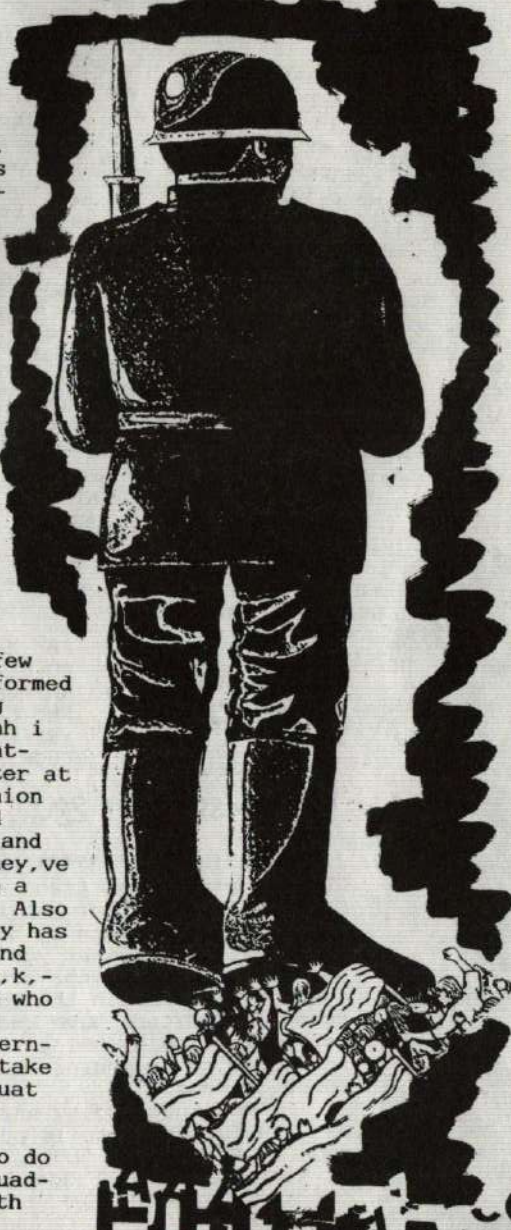

ON THE POVERTY OF STUDENT LIFE

Due to an accommodation crisis, a few central London poly students have formed themselves their very own squatting group "squatsoc" (cringe ugh blurghh i can't bear this uni, speak). Try contacting through A.S.S. or Cathy Cotter at the central London poly students union (no adress as yet). A well equipped bunch armed with crowbars, torches and council overalls (for daybreaks), they've been invading estates in Hackney to a good reception from the neighbours. Also for any students central London poly has loads of flats leased from London and Quadrant (alternative spelling F.u.c.k., i.n.g b.a.r.s.t.a.r.d.s) incidentally who won't house people with kids, or me. Anyway back to these flats the governors of the poly have agreed not to take any legal action against student squatters (it's a written agreement to). These properties are to be left unrenovated because thears no money to do them up. More likely a cheap poly quadrant plot to fob the students of with sub standard housing.

iction. They set fire to the front of the town hall causing £60,000 damage. They barricaded the tower block, so it became a fortress. The authorities however didn't turn up when expected, and so a strenuous life behind barricades began.

Tired of waiting for the eviction and the tension behind the barricades they took to the streets, in the last Monday of January. A burning barricade was set up in the street they broke into a nearby bank and threw all the furniture onto it, then set it alight. When the riot cops came a rampage began, with 2 banks being smashed up. People dispersed all over the town, other burning barricades were set up in other parts of the town quickly, and the culprits legged it. A few isolated people were caught and beaten to fuck by the cops. One house was raided and seven people nicked. A demo planned for the afternoon was cancelled, 'cos by now the pigs were going wild. Later on in the day right wing youth tried to set some squats alight.

RENEW HIS INTEREST IN CARPENTRY.

C.A.P. Centre-A New Squat

Lambeth council is by now famous for its lack of childcare facilities. If you are a Crowbar fan you should know by now about our ex-squatted creche which was evicted 4 times from different places

(it was set up and ran for over 1½ years). During these 1½ years of evictions and various campaigns to keep our creche, Lambeth council had a luxuriously equipped day-nursery which by now has been unused for over 2 years (it was finished in December 1984). It took over £300,000 to build and equip and was supposed to be a day nursery for Lambeth council staff. Lambeth council paid approx. £60,000 for 24 hour security on the place to keep people out. But despite this 'security' - on the 12th of January this year the C.A.P. (Cultural Awareness Programme) squatted the building, and are now making full use of it. There was a public meeting held at the new centre where ideas were discussed as to how the building was to be used. It is to be used as a centre primarily for African people and people of African descent.

Africans are to direct and organise the running of the centre, with European people acting in a supportive role. The intentions are to have a creche, a nursery and an after school group in the centre, and also a place to learn languages, history and have cultural exchange. The Cultural Awareness Programme is an independent, self-funded Organisation and welcomes any physical, material or financial contributions.

GERMANY

Squatting in Germany is almost impossible nowadays. The last big occupied centre in Germany is in Hamburg, in a now famous street called Haffenstrasse, in a red light district of Hamburg. Two large buildings have been occupied for three years now, the people there organised a 'Peoples Kitchen', a disco, library, information centre and seventy five flats to live in. For a long time they've been the victims of media slanders, police harassment, some people have had long range microphones pointed at their windows. The police hate the place since many people involved in Prisoners, anti-imperialist, anti-fascist and anti-nuclear struggles live there.

On Monday October 22nd at 7.00a.m. 500 cops led by the 'mobile special commandos' (a group you definitely don't want to meet) with cutting gear and bulldozers raided the houses. It took them ten hours to break through the barricades (hee, hee) they then trashed a few flats and arrested ten people for resisting. They then painted out two wonderful revolutionary murals which were painted on the sides of the houses.

The next morning 650 police evicted 6 of the flats, giving everyone 5 minutes to leave and threw all their belongings out of the window. But the next night the squatters showed their anger. 2,000 people marched through Hamburg setting fire to part of the town hall in Altona (a suburb of Hamburg) and breaking 50,000 marks worth of windows. The same night demos spread to Berlin, Hannover and Cologne with several attacks on banks. In Nurnberg a cop car was turned over, people attending a public showing of a video on Haffenstrasse were all arrested in a community centre in Nurnberg.

The next day revenge actions took place in Denmark, ten masked people attacked the institute for German Culture, AEG (a German multinational had its showrooms burnt out, causing millions in damage), the German press bureau in Copenhagen was smashed and graffitied. The next day German cops raided forty flats in Nurnberg looking for terrorists but found nothing! (Well what a battle but hang on there's more!).

With the threat of eviction on December 31st, a large demonstration was organised for Saturday 20th December. There were about 12,000 people present from a wide range of groups such as Greens, young socialists, church groups, autonomes (autonomous people) etc. One part of the march had about 1,000 people all wearing masks and ready to defend the march, since there was about 3,000 riot cops present. The demo stopped at a jail where the crowd listened to some speakers. At this point the cops tried to charge into the march and take the sound gear. People in the crowd stoned them and the cops had to back down. (hooray). The march then continued, the cops tried to encircle the militant part of the march (a tactic often used by Hamburg cops), but people broke out of this, resulting in much fighting. The march then proceeded without incident to Haffenstrasse. The via wrote the usual rubbish claiming squatters had started the trouble.

On Sunday 21st December fires were started in 20 different warehouses in Hamburg, from incendiary devices left from the night before. The Guardian said that this caused about £20m damage! The revolutionary Fiery Party claimed responsibility! (Well it helps to have a sense of humour). Some of the people living in Haffenstrasse were not happy with this action, because the comeback will be on them. The eviction is expected soon and mobilisation is beginning. We'd like to wish everyone involved all the best, keep in touch now!

SQUAT RESISTANCE

GERMANY, OCT. 2ND. In Frankfurt squatters fortified their house and let rumours spread there was explosives in the sewers and they'd send the house up in flames before the police got them out. The result? The town council paid every squatter the equivalent of about £10,000 to move out, supposedly for 'improvements made to the Property!'

YOUR NUMBER IS UP:

The "AUSTRALIA CARD" and you.

The spokesman for the powers that be have this time issued a decree to introduce an I.D. card which, spokesmen say, will make it hard to cheat the Aussie government off every dollar that is meant to ease the burden on the backs of honest folk, who pay their tax.

So, in your wallet will reside a card that tells us, nationwide your name, address, and where you work (and though we know you wouldn't shirk your obligation to the state), there's others not so loyal mate So, therefore you will plainly see You must give up some privacy.

To halt the rising tide of greed there's still some details we will need The number of your bank account (we hope your's clear on the amount). We hope you won't object if we check up on your veracity We will advise immediately if there is some discrepancy.

Oh, by the way, there's some things more (we won't explain what these are for) we'd like a photograph or two at really no great loss to you we'd also like attached to these your place of birth, if overseas And could you state your ethnic race (it's hard to tell from just your face) Your passport number would be great your place of landing and the date your driving licence number, please Do you speak Russian or Chinese? And are you married, and to who (your spouse must have an I.D. too) The number of each credit card We trust these Questions aren't too hard?

Have you had conflict with the law? (I guess you know what this one's for!) your honesty is not in doubt (we do have ways of finding out!) Do you have contact lenses on? Do you wear glasses when they're gone? Oh, that's a wig! It doesn't show, but still it's something we should know. We'd also like you to declare your future plans for facial hair advise us of your beard or no, when you decide they come, or go, just send a snapshot, nothing flash, of you, plus/minus your mustache your sideburns could have some import please help us: keep them long or short

Now you may ask, and rightly so, exactly why we want to know all of these facts listed above we have a reason you will love this information surely will reduce your next taxation bill So rest assured, when we are through Big Brother will look after you.

I DON'T NEED A CARD

I ALREADY HAVE AN IDENTITY

IT'S NOT A GAME OF MONOPOLY

We would like to make an appeal to all practically minded people being as how Crowbar should really be of a practical nature. We would like to talk about withholding 'information' an example of this is the sexist nature of certain trademen who while keeping up their right on facade, when questioned on practicality assume the airs of specialisation and explain in such a long winded jargonised manner so as to deliberately confuse and mystify the subject altogether, so as to keep their status riddled trades to themselves.

Wouldn't it be better to build unity within the community based on honesty mutual aid and skill sharing? rather than who can or can't do what or who is the most right on (fight on) activist. Bugger who you really are as long as you tow the party line as defined by the most dominant personalities, it's often the case that the people behind the scenes with an honest straight forward attitude, decline to be involved in "frontline" politics because of personality domination and imposed expectations lumped upon them.

The kind of people who impose the label drongo and use technical jargon are the ones who divide the community into specialists and "Drongo's" those who complain are usually perpetuating this situation themselves.

Information sharing doesn't just apply to trades /manual skills but to all parts of community living, squatting etc To withhold information is to hold on to power and a sense of status and importance, the idea that certain information should only be shared amongst the privileged few "those worthy of it" is shit Within communities we all have something to offer the most important part is sharing, be it openness, laughter, manual skills and abilities, organisational skills, time, writing abilities, fags, booze caring, knowhow, access to information communication with children the list is endless and everyone plays their part or there is no revolution

The new provincial trend setting Mag. has proved that owl that 'ID' can do to London, can be done from LUDLOW. It's just that you have to use YOP's to draw your artwork, file the copy and muddle the editorial team. The editors have become extremely rich by using YOP's to produce a never-ending chain of computer mags.

If you know Ludlow and can supply us with further details on the goon squad who run 'LM'...GET IN TOUCH WE MUST BE TOLD OUR REPUTATION AS THE MOST UNDERFUNDED MAG IN THE U.K. IS THREATENED!!!

A little bit less dismissal of people wouldn't do any harm, and would help to make us all more comfortable and confident to become more involved on whatever level we feel able.

Isn't what were saying basically that Anarchy is the normal human state of being? And maybe there are more anarchists than we imagine?? Changing attitudes on the grass roots is what really makes the difference.

MANCHESTER MUTUAL AID
A few weeks ago a new mutual aid centre began in a squat in Hulme in Manchester. It's intended as a resource, a caff and squat centre, with an anarchist bookshop as well. Though the squatters' aid also run an advice hour in the city, most squats are in Hulme, a vast concrete jungle of estates between the city and Moss Side. There's up to 100 squats and 100's of empties. The council are still handing out tenancies, though a few evictions have begun. Nearly every flat is boarded up, for protection, and some are permanently encased in steel shuttering, though we found the place pretty peaceful and friendly. Hulme is the centre of the campaign against the deportation of Viraj Mendis, who is holed up in 'sanctuary' in the local church. The campaign is run by the RCP. The Hulme anarchists have just begun the publishing for instance they've reprinted 'Dirty Fingers' and the 'Why Aid' sexist group which is pretty good. Also based in Hulme is a Direct Action Movement group (DAM) who produce a good nation wide paper.

Feb 5.87. Sir Fred Lawton High court judge and one time member of the British fascists sentenced 10 A.I.F. defendants to a total of 38 years in prison. Ronny Lee, singled out as a leader, was sentenced to 10 years the others were given 4. It was a show trial to try and deter other activists. The police had no evidence what so ever against Ronny Lee, the judge and prosecution (worked hard in hand) portrayed him as a general who commanded lieutenants sergeants, agents, and common foot soldiers. However A.I.F. continues to carry out autonomous actions against animal abuse, with or without the 10 activists now in jail.

ALFALF

THE MANCHESTER SQUATTERS AID ARE ALSO CO-ORDINATING THE 1st ENGLAND SQUAT NETWORK BULLETIN, OUT SOON, ANY GROUP WHO HAVEN'T SENT IN THEIR REPORTS YET, DO IT NOW, IT'S GOING TO BE FUCKING GREAT.

HOW DARE YOU PRESUME I'M NOT A DRONGO

The following was taken from an article in "Green CND". It's a short review of a preliminary report by Kim Besly, the co-ordinator of the zapping investigation at Greenham.

"As a result of spin-offs from medical military, aerospace and industrial research, we are in the process of developing devices and products capable of controlling violent individuals and entire mobs, without injure. We can tranquilize, impede, immobilize, harass, shock, upset, chill, temporarily blind, deafen, or just plain scare the wits out of anyone the police have a proper need to control and restrain."

(Congressman James Scheuer, U.S.A.)

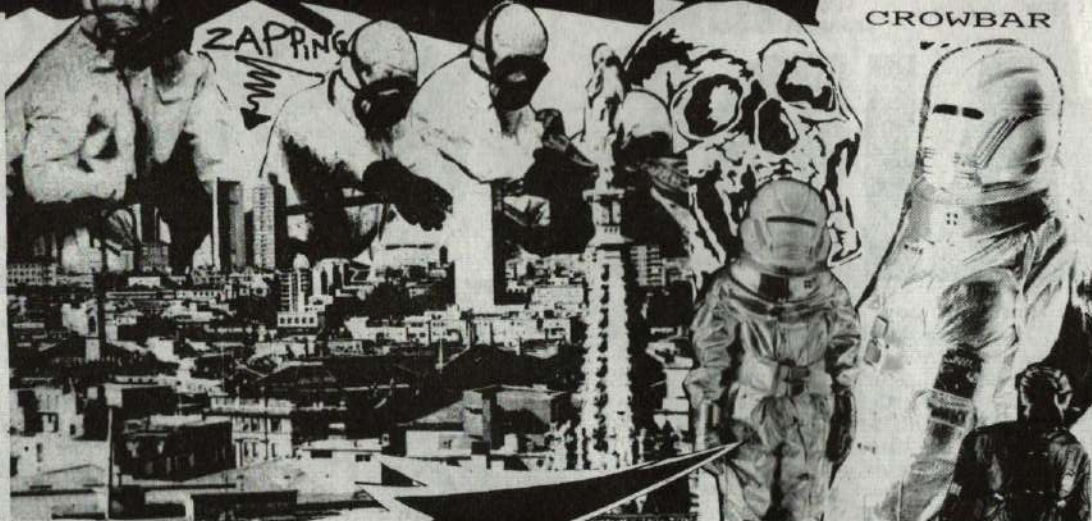

Most of us have heard the term used before, without really understanding what it is or means. With all its Flash Gordon connotations the conventional media has dismissed the claims of the "Greenham Women as neurotic and fanciful. The ignorance of the majority of the population is typified by the continuing development and distribution of frightening "anti-personnel" weapons, amongst the armed forces and police, and the testing of them on people like the Greenham Women.

Kim Besly's report examines both the medical effects of zapping and the applications of the technology of 'electromagnetic pollution' as a means of controlling people. Scientists have been recording symptoms caused by microwave and radio frequency radiation since World War 2, and these include links with the development of leukaemia, brain tumours, cataracts and heart conditions. Kim Besly had personal experience as a radar and radio engineer and tellshow as services personnel she was forbidden to stand near transmitting aeriels because of "biological hazards". The different frequencies in the electromagnetic spectrum were suddenly found to have varying effects when deliberately employed, and a when deliberately employed, and certain frequencies are known to be highly psycho active and can cause definite behavioural changes.

"It is known how to induce malignant diseases in human cells and how to cure them...you can entrain a human being's brain waves across a room with a very weak magnetic field..."

(Eldon A Byrd PhD-scientist for U.S. Dept. of the Navy, 1986).

In the U.S. workers involved in manufacturing microwave equipment, as well as staff at radio, television and radar centres were found to have a wide variety of neurological problems ranging from pains in the head to nervous tension and inhibition of intellectual functions, such as memory loss. Microwave radiation may also result in changes in the reproductive cycle.

"...employers were often unaware that they were using radio-frequency radiation in their facilities...the industrial uses of RF generators were not widely publicised, and little info. was available on their uses...estimates of workers exposed to RF and microwave radiation (in the USA) vary from as few as 50,000 to as many as 21,000,000...no survey instruments are available with which 'near zone' measurements could be made in the field".

(Eliot S Harris, U.S. National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health.) Statistics from the civil service medical advisory service show that 14% of pregnancies among VDU users resulted in miscarriages as compared with 5.3% in non-users, 6.7% compared with 1% resulted in still births, and 22% compared with 11% resulted in fetal malformations.

"With all this evidence, it naturally didn't take the authorities long to adapt this type of technology for use in riot and crowd control."

"...Between 1981 and Sept. 1982 the navy commissioned me to investigate the potential of developing anti-magnetic devices that could be used as non-lethal weapons by the Marine Corps, for the purpose of 'riot control', hostage removal, embassy and ship security, clandestine operations and so on."

(Eldon Byrd, Naval Surface Weapons Centre Silver Springs, Maryland, Feb. 1985).

Tests with such weapons as the "electronic flame thrower", tested by the U.S. in 1972, have produced 3rd degree burns on human skin with a beam of 20 watts per square centimetre. In Britain there are many frequency weapons available causing effects ranging from giddiness to flicker fits.

From observing patterns of illness at Greenham it became noticeable that whenever the women experienced symptoms like the ones described above, the police and army lines thinned out considerably. Doctors and scientists found that the women's symptoms were consistent with exposure to some kind of low-level radiation of an electromagnetic nature. Radiation measurements taken showed higher levels in the places where women had felt previous ill-effects, and when the demonstration moved to alongside the fence increased levels were obtained there, when previously none had been recorded.

"Readings taken with a wide range signal strength meter showed marked increases in the background signal level near one of the women's camps at a time when they claimed to be experiencing ill effects."

WACKERSDORF

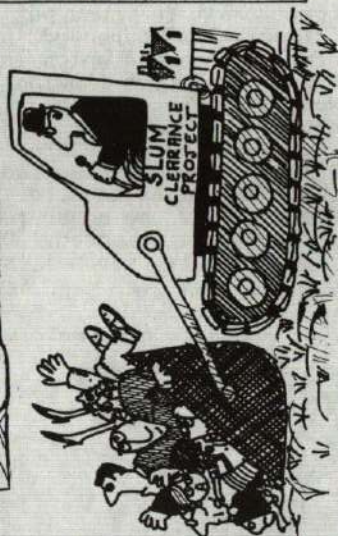

Ever since the explosion at Chernobyl there has been widespread anger against the German government's cover up of facts and figures on radiation and against the nuclear power mega-death dealers. One of the centres of protest is at Wackersdorf in Bavaria (South Germany) where the Government is building a nuclear power plant.

On 26th December about 5,000 people turned up for a demo, most got there late because of police road blocks. The cops forbade anyone to go near the area where building was going on, nevertheless 3,000 people made their way there by clambering through a nearby wood. They then began to make holes in the unbreakable outer fence(which cost the government millions to develop and here it is being hacked to bits!It's bloody criminal!). The cops came out and were snowballed, they then laid into the demonstrators, even nicking peoples'sleeping bags,(wot shits)and arrested 56 people.

On 30th Dec 100 cops raided the house of a local activist. They claimed they were looking for clothes worn by someone who had kicked a cop about 9 months ago (what excuses will they think of next).

Villagers came out and hassled the cops who arrested eleven of them. Most of the villagers now hate the cops who have the village under siege, just like Wapping and the mining villages. On New Year's Eve there was a party at the fence, the cops closed down the Australian border to stop people going to the 'illegal party', 20 arrests were made. (TAZ)

90% OF PEOPLE WOULD STEAL

According to the Hudson Bay's chief of security, Ron Moss, 10% of department store customers shoplift and another 80% would if the circumstances were right. He said in a talk to high school students that shoplifters take $1 million worth of goods across Canada every day, $100,000 of which comes from Toronto.

He said that his staff had caught 8000 people already this year, and asks: "Can you be sure that mirror you're looking into is only a mirror and not a two-way window with a security guard on one side?"

On Sunday 14th September(alright so it's old news but it's still important and besides there's always someone who hasn't heard of it),young autonomist squatters began a 9 day uprising in defence of their squatted house and centre at Ryesgade 58.

The building was squatted for 3 years (not bad considering squatting is illegal in Denmark!),the building had to be constantly barricaded and guarded against the cops and 'no brains'(Danish word for drongo-oops sorry!).In February 1986 the cops besieged the building for 3 and a half days.In the past there have been numerous street battles with the cops,most of which the squatters won.A neighbour once called the cops for some reason,they refused to come saying if they went near the squat they'd be lynched!

A Danish Police chief declared that 'Ryesgade 58 is a cancer cell in Danish society'.But to imaginative and creative people it was a place 'for free social experimentation',whilst there the people ran a Cafe,printing room,various workshops an Ekomedia office and parties.

The resistance was the high point of the recent resistance,with attacks on South African and U.S. companies and wider unrest following the recent General Strike

What follows is an account from many sources-'Nine Days Inside the No Go Area'.

Weds.10th Sept.-furious organising begins,the eviction is expected on Sunday.The home of the mayor is attacked with paint and stones.

Day 1-Sunday 14th Sept.-About 1000 people assemble in a main square for a planned support march to a big park. But the demo breaks away and everyone charges to the Ryesgarde Area.The police are fooled and outnumbered.Barricades are built,containers,builders wagons and building materials are dragged across surrounding streets.As the cops charge molotovs,fireworks and stones drive them back. Inside the new no-go area,Sperry(a big U.S. war firm which recently moved in,displacing many inhabitants)was burnt down.As Sperry burned,the police charged,200 people fought back,eventually driving the cops back and hospitalising 15 of them.3 streets are now a no-go area.Bigger barricades go up.A huge street party goes on all night.'It seems so mad all this violence,maybe people will die. We know we will lose,but we still fight on.It's not just this squat anymore... resistance is a tool to build the movement...to create a free space in a nasty system.'

Day 2-Monday 15th Sept-The Desperate Battle. Barricades now 3 metres high and topped with rolls of barbed wire.The press is going crazy-'Democracy Under Attack' they say!At 11.30a.m. 6 riot buses pull up and sirens wail.The cops charge,reach no.58 and smash a window,but can't get in.The resistors throw smoke-bombs,tear-gas and more smoke,the cops retreat. Then the cops make a bigger charge from solutions,but they're all rejected.An attack by the Danish SAS is expected. Local 'free radios'give great support, neighbours give food,help,blankets, clothes etc.Old people are too terrified to go out,so squatters do their shopping for them.News filters in of solidarity actions in Aaghush,demos in Holland, Germany and Sweden.Everyone is tired and edgy.Stupid politics and final confrontations are rejected,everyone picks up and clears out.The press and police arrive to find the whole area deserted!The whole place is strewn with wreckage like a gigantic chessboard. This resistance was to highlight the fact that the authorities are responsible for the housing crisis as well as an attempt to halt 'trendification' and destruction of working class areas.This must have been the hardest battle ever fought over a squat.All of us here would like once again to congratulate all on their brilliant resistance.With the whole state against them, they didn't think that they'd win,but as they put it,'Even though the fight itself will be a defeat,the Resistance itself will be a victory.'

Day 3-Tues.16th Sept.-Police Retreat. The government holds an emergency meeting.The mayor has locked himself in his office.Behind the barricades all is quiet,helicopters hover low.A local greengrocer donates food.Everyone is quietly eating round cosy fires in the street.Then suddenly a gang of pigs try and put out a fire,they beat and drag away 2 people,leaving one unconscious. 6 plain clothes cops pounce on one boy and drag him into a nearby hospital. Windows are smashed in an effort to free him(the next day papers say,'Squatters attack babies in hospital ward'). A petrol bomb lands on the steps of 58. The culprit can't be found,but a 'green jacket' fascist is suspected. Inside the no-go area is a garage which is seized and keeps the molotovs flowing.

Day 4-Weds.17th Sept.-Negotiations. It's martial law on the streets now.Riot police surround the whole area,searching and I.D.ing everyone.On the radio Kim Larson(68 year old ex-squatter and pop star)offers to buy the house for the squatters to 'save democracy'.But at a street meeting this proposai is rejected

Day 5-9 Thurs.-Sun.21st Sept.-Stalemate and Politricks. Government,councils etc.,make various Latest News.

There are still 5 other squats in Copenhagen.Recently,300 people tried to squat an empty factory in Copenhagen. They were evicted after 3 hours and dispersed by riot police with tear gas. In the battle a local police station was burnt down(Ekomedia).

Herbal Abortifacants

CROWBAR

It is not the intent of this article to dispense medical advice or to prescribe the use of herbs as a form of treatment. There are many experts in the field with widely varying views. In the event you use this information without your doctor's approval, you are prescribing for yourself, which is your right, but the publisher assumes no responsibility.

This information is culled from 20 books on herbal remedies and from talks with herbalists and women in the States and Europe. It is not all that exists on abortifacants but the most persistent.

Any use of these herbs must be done in a careful way. Read the article thoroughly; be cautious. These herbs can be very potent. Do not use them in larger quantities or more often than specified. All work best in the first month of pregnancy or as soon as pregnancy is suspected. The herbs usually work approximately 40% to 45% of the time.

These methods are best used in a situation where you can have access to a mechanical abortion as a backup. Complications are possible with any miscarriage. There is the danger of an incomplete miscarriage or hemorrhaging. It is also possible that an herbal concoction which does not produce the intended miscarriage still damages the fetus.

1. This method is the best tried and proven. It is easily available and cheap with no known side effects: Vitamin C. Dosage is 6 grams for 3 days. It should be taken in small quantities, ie: 2 grams 3 times a day for 3 days. Vitamin C can be taken immediately after unprotected intercourse to prevent fertilization or as soon as pregnancy is suspected. It seems to work best if taken when, or just after, period is due but it has been effective into the first month of pregnancy. Basically the sooner it's taken the better.

The 3 day treatment can be repeated, but there is no known information on how often it can be repeated safely. Because no one really understands how or why it works, we limit it to two trials. It usually takes 2 1/2 to 3 days after the first dosage to work. Wait 4 or 5 days from the last day taken before repeating if there is no blood after 3 days. Blood flow is slow at first. There may be some cramps. It may not work for women who take doses of Vitamin C regularly. NOTE: It should not be taken by women with kidney problems as it puts stress on the kidneys in the elimination process.

2. An alternative to Vitamin C which may be used together with it (more effective) is parsley—fresh only, in the vagina. Change every 24 hours but it should work (if it's going to) within 12 to 15 hours after insertion. It may get smelly or hard to take out, but it is not dangerous. Method: Take fresh parsley (a handful), wrap it lightly in gauze and roll like a tampon. A string can be sewn on to make removal easier. Insert overnight preferably. This can be repeated without danger but usually works quickly if it's going to.

3. These are the most common herbal abortifacants, in decreasing order of effectiveness:

Black Cohosh—stimulates uterine contractions
Blue Cohosh—stimulates contractions and helps to slough off uterine lining

Penny Royal—stimulates release of oxytocin in the brain which is the hormone which induces contractions

Mugwort, Ginger, Yarrow—helps to slough off lining of the uterus

Saffron, Rue, Cotton Root Bark—stimulates contractions

Tansy, Southernwood, Squaw Vine, Golden Ragwort—stimulates contractions

Any of these can be taken individually or in combination and may cause contractions and subsequent bleeding. They are most effective in combination. They are called 'emmenagogues' but have a different function in the body. That's why it's best to combine them, eg. one to slough off, one to stimulate contractions and one to tone etc. The general recipe for any of these is an infusion (tea) of one teaspoon herb per cup of boiling water.

Steep 20 minutes. Drink one cup of tea 4 times a day for 5 days.

A recipe that has worked best for women in Montreal, and has also been used in San Francisco and New York is:

1 tablespoon Penny Royal (fresh not oil)

1 tablespoon Blue Cohosh

1 tablespoon Yarrow

1 tablespoon Rue

Boil 3 cups of water. Add Blue Cohosh. Allow to simmer 10 minutes. Add other herbs. Remove from flame and allow to steep 30 minutes. Drink 1 cup every 4 hours for up to 5 days.

or (not together and is less effective): Saffron—1 gram per 1 litre of water. Steep 30 minutes. Makes 8 portions. Drink 1 portion every 2 hours for 1 day. Period may appear at the end of the day; if not do not repeat.

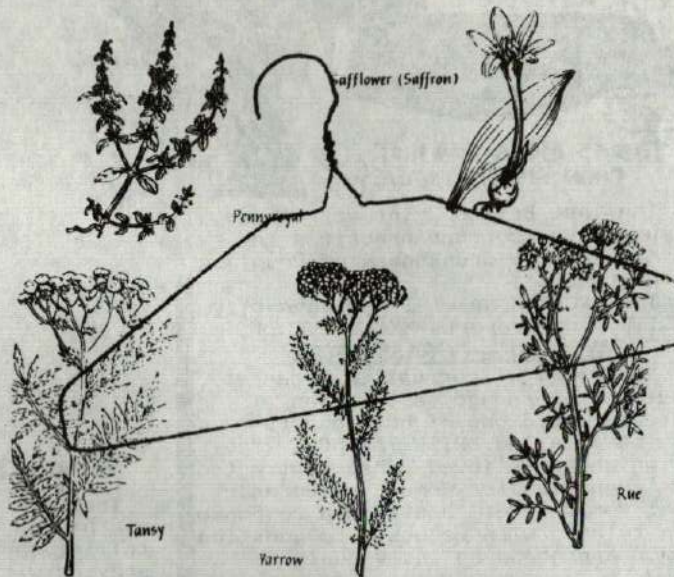

or American Indian recipe: Penny Royal and Brewers Yeast—1 teaspoon Penny Royal per cup of boiling water. Steep 20 minutes. Add Brewers Yeast. Drink 1 cup every 4 hours for 4 days.

The first recipe is the best. The others have worked, but not as consistently. The herbs are potent. What may work for one woman may not work for another. If a woman starts to feel sick, she should stop taking the tea. Some cramps and any normal premenstrual feelings and aches are not dangerous, but feeling 'sick' is not okay. If the herbs are going to work, they usually do so after the first try. Two dosage periods are okay for all the recipes except for the Saffron, but the dosages are not recommended more than twice and then only in the early stages, up to 8 weeks. (The herbs have worked for some women a bit later, this depends on the woman.)

NOTE: If any of these herbal remedies are unpalatable, any mint teas may be added to the recipe. Do not add more water, just the mint. Women should eat very lightly when taking the teas—vegetables and tea. Oil of herbs is much more potent and concentrated than dried or fresh herbs. All of these recipes are for dried herbs. Do not substitute oils for fresh.

"If I suspected I was pregnant, I would start with the Vitamin C, and then go on to the herbal concoction. I would do the Saffron last, and probably not try any of it after 8 weeks, unless I was sure of getting a mechanical abortion if the herbal abortion didn't work. I'd do the Vitamin C and the herbal recipe twice before the Saffron, and then I'd give up in favour of a medical abortion. I'd do everything I could to get an appointment for a mechanical abortion, even if I was trying the herbal recipes. The appointment can always be cancelled. Keep in mind that these herbs, if they work to induce abortion, could also be potentially damaging to the fetus. Only use these herbs if you are sure of having options other than continuing the pregnancy if they don't work." (from open road mag)

SCOOP!

THERE'S MORE TO A RIOT
THAN MEETS THE EYE!

The last Brixton riot was caused by secretive, corrupt practices in the MET and the drunkenness of Douglass Lavlock (O.B.E.).

The CROWBAR special assignment 'INCITE' team reports EXCLUSIVELY!

PAY NOW — GRASS LATER

The trail of corruption began at least two years ago, a Cumbrian Inspector told one of our readers when he detailed BRIBE TAKING by the Met, which he believed, had obstructed his enquiries, for some considerable time. For the Met's standard response when teleaxed with requests to question and/or apprehend an individual was to find their wanted person and ask for £20-£200 in return for sending back a 'no-can-find' message to their unsuspecting country colleagues. The bribes then served a secondary, more insidious, purpose for the Met., for they could visit the same person some time later when they felt like cultivating a new informant and maybe boosting their 'clear-up' rate the easy way.

As crimes remained unsolved for longer and longer periods outside London, the country bobbies resorted to their respective clients, asking many prisoners if they might like to invest in their future by 'confessing' to some of the backlog, receiving only concurrent sentences, and, in extreme cases, a virtual licence to burgle after release from prison. This system worked fine until a tearful fourteen year old broke down and confessed to an arson attack—only to be told that the cops had already ' nabbed ' a body for that, thank you very much, young sir!

AND SO, they struggled to improve their figures for the good of the glorious Home Office statistics, so confident they were winning the battle against crime in our time, with more people in jail than ever, no doubt suffering at the reflex policing methods and soon a mother was actually paralysed in the case of the Brixton mob.

HERTS. ATTACK

HERTS. police were therefore acting covertly, when they visited Micheal Groce's flat in Waterloo one night. No request had been passed on to the Met. to carry out such an operation and the Herts cops made doubly sure of secrecy by posing as the Porn Squad, enjoying a visit to a Soho strip club en-route to Waterloo!

Sneaking up on the flat they had the shock of their lives when a gunshot was heard from inside. The jolly raiding party panicked, scurrying back to Royston. They were hastily De-briefed on their bungles after which the top brass fretted over an explanation to offer to the Met. who were chasing up a report of the incident from a member of the public.

They distracted the Yard from its wrath with a 'hot lead' on M. Groce, telling them that he was obviously staying with his mother who they'd traced in t'telephone book... Yes! Armed Dangerous and Casually drinking a cup of tea, if you please, round at his mummy's... They must waste no time! So enter, stage right Dougie Lovelock and his team of tactical weapons specialists!

DRUNK IN CHARGE

Douggie had been up all night, raving with the boys, and it was unfortunate that, as a first-class killer, he should have been sent to Normandy Rd. the following morning

Lavlock spurring his boys on down the Brixton Road, gibbering away into the radio. He was in a similar frame of mind to Ghengis Khan on a rampage.

Into Normandy Road and to a screeching halt outside the Groce home.

He had a Smith and Wesson.

The Insp. was first, lurching unsteadily into the hall, mouthing obscenities. 'I shot the first Black shape that I saw' He declared indignantly, as he was led away from the paralysed Mrs. Groce, to be investigated and exonerated by his mates.

Only the nine cops from Royston got disciplined over the attempted murder, and are reported as 'bemused' by the whole affair. Deeply ashamed that they had disrupted one of the quaint old customs of London's finest!

'A quiet word, a nice bit of pay, means a life-long informer, a year to the day'.....

As we go to press...

Two youths have been acquitted in the Blodnok murder trial.

One of them had been held incommunicado for 24 hours..

He is only 13 years old and was left in a cell dressed only in his underpants to pressure him into a 'confession'.

SQUATTING NEWS

LONDON

Not exactly much has happened recently there's been several all London Squatters meetings at which we've said, 'ooh not much has happened'. But squatting is still LEGAL. So why not claim what's yours and SQUAT THE LOT!

WIRE, Southwark's squatting comic is out, but the latest edition contains a nasty anti-hippy cartoon! SNOW are at 362 Old Kent Road, London SE1 and are open Mon-Fri, 4-7p.m. phone 701 5804.

ISLINGTON.

The excellent Blut Blut and Flob Flob cafes are still going, the London Residuary board who own the buildings, sort of said that they could stay until the buildings are sold. Yippee! Blut-Blut 313 Upper St, Islington, N1 Angel tube is open Tues. 1-5p.m., Wed 3-7p.m., and Sun 2-7p.m. as a cafe. Relations with locals are good, some even eat there in their lunch break. Flob Flob 287 Upper St, Islington, N1, has a bicycle workshop Thurs 4-7p.m., and cafes on Friday 7-10p.m. and Sunday 7-10p.m. All food cooked is vegan. So if you're an Islington vegan squatter, there's no excuse for being hungry or having a broken bicycle. They're always looking for more people to get involved, so if you live nearby, why not pay them a visit. Recently the council in co-operation with the filth produced an anti-squatting leaflet, saying the usual bullshit. The squatters responded with their own leaflet, which was well received by locals. Basically Upper St is so trendy I nearly threw up when I went there. I mean where else can you buy a bent screwdriver for £1.50!

LAMBETH.

The 121 Anarchist Squatting centre is still here despite threats from the Council, health and safety officials, LEB Rates department etc. The Women's Cafe is open on Saturday 6p.m.-9p.m. but phone first, a Squatters cafe has started on Sunday mostly from 3-6p.m. The bookshop is open 12-4p.m. Mon-Sat, squatters aid is on Sunday 3-5p.m. Why not come and see us at 121 Railton Road, Herne Hill, London, S.E.24 OLR, 01 274 6655

There's a Squatters library where you can donate books you've finished with and take others out. The squatters creche is still out there but we won't where or the council will evict the kids and their toys back onto the street.

The council is presently planning to blitz Tulse Hill Estate which has 30 squatted flats. Bet they leave them empty or move in Yuppie tenants, rumour does have it however that they might actually repair the drains which have been broken for six months.

Also trendies are moving in, Yuk! Yuppies out of London.

Southwark Southwark council has realised it can't mass evict 'cos of mass resistance. So they're going to try and evict a few here and there. Plus they're trying the scummy de-squat strategy, when they kick out the squatters and straight away move in builders or stupid tenants who will accept an unrepaid flat. The shit about de-squats is the squatters are often the same situation as the new tenants and would qualify for their flats under the hard to let scheme! So why not leave them there in the first place. Well all the best to those facing eviction.

Recently a woman was sent by Picadilly Advice Centre to the SNOW office. When she got there the office volunteer (who was not a regular), made a sexist comments to her. Disgusted by this she contacted PAC again. SNOW tried to trace the victim and culprit, they even set up a confidential hotline for the woman to phone. It's a real shame that one sexist shithead can create so much bad feeling especially when SNOW works so hard keeping Squatting in their area going There's more bad news too Mr Cannabis Culture was busted for 0.10gm of dope, 'not enough to get a fly high he said'.

TOWER HAMLETS
The Anarchist centre, Leslies is still going they can be found at 17 Turners Rd, London E.3., Mile End tube.

They're open 2-7p.m. Tues-Sat. They run a bookshop, wholefood co-op and are trying to start a cafe. The council recently tried a shock horror campaign against squatters, cos the number of squats has risen greatly squatters responded with their own leaflet which went down well.

STOKE NEWINGTON.

Stoke Newington-A block of 12 flats was squatted on the Holmeigh Estate. Some scabby tenants got a petition up against them but only 14 tenants would sign it and squatters and tenants are getting on quite happily.

STOP PRESS.

Stop Press A group of travellers squatted a disused orchard in Orpington (stockbroker belt part of London) the orchard has over 700 different owners. Orpington Council is well fucked off 'cos there's no way they can ever trace the owners. But the shit thing is that they might try and evict them using the Public Order Act.

Council, housing co-op and housing association places are the best to squat cos you can keep them the longest. If you're squatting try and get to know the other squatters in your area 'then you can organise an alarm system in case of heavies turning up etc.'

CAN YOU TAKE THE LID OFF YOUR PROBLEMS WITH A CROWBAR?

Stonehenge '87

Winter Solstice 1986

About 150 people turned up to celebrate the high point of winter. English Heritage (boo hiss), had agreed to open the stones all night, since the peak of the solstice was at about 4.00a.m., but being a load of double crossing shits they decided to close the stones at 5p.m. The filth then stopped anyone else from entering and after a slanging match threw out the 50 odd people already in the stones. Feeling very pissed off we all decided to come back early in the morning. When we came back there were about 200 of us and a handful of tired cops. Someone tried to climb over the fence and it collapsed beneath them, so we all rushed in and did what we've been trying to do for years. Take the Stones. The pigs and security guards stood around unable to stop us, as we made a huge circle around the stones and all held hands. We saw the most beautiful sunrise and then all rushed into the middle of the stones and gave each other a hug. It was great to have fooled the cops, we had taken what was rightfully ours from under their noses. The Stonehenge 87 Campaign has got rolling, we plan on the same tactics as last year, but are keeping a close eye on the public order bill, since it could devastate our plans. So we'll start planning a few surprises.

Glastonbury is on this year and we are asking everyone to boycott this scabby event. C.N.D. are deliberately trying to pull everyone away from Stonehenge (the heart of the government's military and nuclear playground), just so they and Mike Eaves (festival site owner), can make loads of money. Well fuck off the C.N.D. leaders, how do you ever expect to get rid of nuclear weapons? Vote Labour!!!

The next Stonehenge campaign meetings are on March 19th and April 1st at 99 Torriano Avenue, London, N.W.5.

Etching Fluid

The method of putting it on windows, which we have found effective, is to get a plastic tape head cleaning fluid bottle and modify the hole in the top of it with a 3/32" drill bit, or thereabouts. Etching fluid is much thicker than head cleaning fluid and therefore needs a bigger hole to squirt it through. Make sure the bottle is the 50ml size.

The advantage of this method is that the bottle is small and easy to conceal. If you squirt it at a window as you walk past, it will leave a thick line across which dribbles down the glass. The disadvantage is that it only does a limited amount of damage, but you can always use more than one bottle.

Etching fluid can be obtained from craft shops but, the C.I.D. have been checking these out and asking for descriptions/details of people buying the stuff. So beware.

If you can get hold of it, it's bloody useful thing to have. It has enabled us (Leeds A.L.F.) to hit the big bastards in the city centre, an area where breaking windows is far more risky.

GETTING THE CHEMISTRY RIGHT
McDONALD's stripy staff uniforms, flashy lighting, bright plastic decor, "Happy Hats" and muzak, are all part of the gimmicky dressing-up of low-quality food which has been designed down to the last detail to look and feel and taste exactly the same in any outlet anywhere in the world. To achieve this artificial conformity, McDonald's require that their "fresh lettuce leaf" for example, is treated with twelve different chemicals just to keep it the right colour at the right crispness for the right length of time. It might as well be a bit of plastic.

Why Not SQUAT

WAPPING 24th January.

For a year the brave pickets have endured everything the state can throw at them, DHSS hassles, video surveillance, riot cops, Tony Benn, Brenda Dean etc. So what could have been more fitting than what happened on Jan 24th. 25,000 people maybe more turned out to show that trade union struggles will never die. The march was fairly quiet, the cops tried to nick someone taking a piss there was a struggle to nick him, in the struggle a cop was hit over the head with a whisky bottle and he folded to the floor. Once the march got to Wapping it was greeted by 12 rows of pigs, backed up by riot pigs, horses, snatch squads the lot! So the march was boxed in at Wellclose Square, so basically the riot was a set piece confrontation engineered by the pigs. They wanted us to attack them so we'd have no energy to attack Murdoch's scabby lorries. So if the protectors of wealth stand in our way we'd better remove them!

A lorry is overturned at Virginia St. but won't burn, the cops charge out and clear the road, as they retreat the crowd rains them with stones and bottles. This continues for a while they run out and we stone them as they withdraw. It's not just the anarchists throwing stones, everyone's doing it! A labour party member with a brick in his hand says 'I don't normally do this' Someone wedges a piece of wood between the railings and begins breaking them up. They're great nice and heavy! The horses charge out and we scatter a molly is thrown and a very loud banger helps to confuse the horses, but they still manage to clear the highway. We retreat into Wellclose Square and the battle continues. All around there is the thud of stones on perspex and the crack, crack of stones being broken up. When a copper falls to the ground from a blow there's a huge cheer from the crowd. From behind the cover of the railings we have great fun lobbing whatever comes to hand. Some groups of people arm themselves and run at the cops, retreating when they run out of ammo. The cops charge into Wellclose Square, it takes them two charges to clear us out. We retreat through the tower blocks onto Cable St, a passing

We taunt the cops with remarks like, 'Oh has God told you to do that, officer?', or 'I won't move till instructed by God!' (at least James Anderton's good for something). By now most people have gone and so we leave to the sight of the Turkish Solidarity Committee marching to the plant. We feel great rioting is very therapeutic! YOUR NUMBER IS UP:

The "AUSTRALIA CARD" and you.

The spokesman for the powers that be have this time issued a decree to introduce an I.D. card which, spokesmen say, will make it hard to cheat the Aussie government off every dollar that is meant to ease the burden on the backs of honest folk, who pay their tax.

So, in your wallet will reside
a card that tells us, nationwide your name, address, and where you work (and though we know you wouldn't shirk your obligation to the state), there's others not so loyal mate
So, therefore you will plainly see
You must give up some privacy.

To halt the rising tide of greed
there's still some details we will need
The number of your bank account
(we hope your's clear on the amount).
We hope you won't object if we check up on your veracity
We will advise immediately
if there is some discrepancy.

Oh, by the way, there's some things more (we won't explain what these are for) we'd like a photograph or two at really no great loss to you we'd also like attached to these your place of birth, if overseas
And could you state your ethnic race
(it's hard to tell from just your face)
Your passport number would be great your place of landing and the date your driving licence number, please
Do you speak Russian or Chinese?
And are you married, and to who (your spouse must have an I.D. too)
The number of each credit card
We trust these Questions aren't too hard?

Have you had conflict with the law?
(I guess you know what this one's for!) your honesty is not in doubt
(we do have ways of finding out!)
Do you have contact lenses on?
Do you wear glasses when they're gone?
Oh, that's a wig? It doesn't show, but still it's something we should know.

We'd also like you to declare your future plans for facial hair advise us of your beard or mo.
when you decide they come, or go,
just send a snapshot, nothing flash,
of you, plus/minus your mustache your sideburns could have some import please help us: keep them long or short

Now you may ask, and rightly so, exactly why we want to know
all of these facts listed above we have a reason you will love this information surely will reduce your next taxation bill
So rest assured, when we are through
Big Brother will look after you.

J. Easterling.

9th EDITION

SQUATTERS HANDBOOK

The 8th edition is now all but sold out (in 10 months; edition 7 took 2 years!) It has a vast amount of info. which is invaluable to squatters or people thinking of squatting. A.S.S. are now preparing a new edition I believe, and would appreciate printable pictures to replace some of the old ones. Let's hope edition 9 sells out even faster. There's still some of no.8 left-if you want one they're 50p(67p by post) for larger amounts, order them and A.S.S. will send you an invoice with the books. The address is-

REVOLUTIONARY RECIPES

1st

REVOLUTIONARY RECIPES

1 Status Quo Soup.

INGREDIENTS. 4oz Political Bullshit
1 Cabbage Savoy
1 Tsp Vegetable Oink
Third World Left Overs (add. 1lb)
7 1/2 fl oz papal semen
A train full of gravy (or bicycle).
Fresh Thyme.

METHOD:

Shred the cabbage (publically) and fry in the oink until the riot police arrive. Stir in leftovers with a wooden spoon until the mixture assumes a Belsen-like texture. Add Thyme, taking care not to waste any on the children. Gloss with Holy Semen, and simmer on a corporate gas stove until thick white and middle class. Serve relentlessly with H-Block potatoes and lashings, or gravy if the soup preferred (where population is illiterate). Garnish with bullshit.

2. Trendy Burgers (suitable for Vegans and Quakers).

INGREDIENTS: The Base.

1 Bruce Springsteen album.
Lithuanian Red Lentils.
Liberal Quantities of flower power
Solzentschen's complete works
Topping.

8 oz macrobiotic minced lemon substitute.

METHOD:

Drop acid and talk about how Springsteen is really seedy. Mix, in a separate dish, the lentils flower power and a few well rehearsed quotes from the oppressed. Take a degree in anthropology, and blend all ingredients until tacky.

Top with enough lemon substitute so that every bite makes you cringe.

N.B. This recipe is not recommended for people born with the moon in Taurus.

3. WHITE HOUSE SALAD.

INGREDIENTS. 1 P Prostrate gland
Lake Superior
1/2 mug of christianness
Mixed nuts
A lot of American Know-how.

METHOD: Prepare as for mega-salads (see page 30-35). Ideal for serving at a candlelight dinner in your nuclear bunker.

THE FREE

By M. Gilliland.
Published by Hooligan Press.

Published May 1st, 1986. Cost: £1.80. retail

Don't miss this book. It's a rare, exciting and inspiring read. Just out and published in a limited edition.
In the line of The Dispossessed, it's an adventure story of people growing up in a time of economic collapse and violent revolutionary change... It's a book of flashing images, of hilarity, sadness, beauty, freedom and horror. It's a subversive political attack, set in an all too real and convincing world... Don't lose the last page!

This we hope is the first of many novels from Hooligan Press, a non profit making group.

ist Book service). Bulk Orders: A Distribution, 84b
