On June 16th (Soweto day) a group of about 25 comrades occupied five South African connected banks in the City Centre. We started with the shopping centre Barclays, went on to the city branch which we managed to close down for 1/2 an hour. The employees (50 or so) were quickly told to leave by the management and the doors locked. Passers-by were informed by a notice that this was in commemoration of the massacre at Soweto. Other banks occupied were Barclays (International), Standard Chartered and the Clifton Barclays - in this one phone calls were answered on behalf of those comrades murdered by the South African police! - As usual there was a press blackout.

ALL LONDON SQUATS

As my friend has just told me the last 'Crowbar' came out 'ages ago', so... we can deduce that since then, there have been many All London Squatters Meetings!

The last one was at the recently squatted City Limits building at 313 Upper St, Islington. As usual each squatting group said their piece, the only trouble is... almost always the same people turn up and the same things are said. In the last 3-4 months only two interesting things have happened, the squatting of the Libyan Embassy and the tragic eviction of Pullens. Incidentally, the squatters at Pullens deserve a fucking good round of applause for showing the pigs what we're all made of. WELL DONE!!

Don't miss this book. Its a rare, exciting and inspiring read. Just out and published in a limited edition. In the line of The Dispossessed, its an adventure story of people growing up in a time of economic collapse and violent revolutionary change...Its a book of flashing images, of hilarity, sadness, beauty, freedom and horror. Its a subversive political attack, set in an all too real and convincing world...Don't lose the last page!

This we hope is the first of many novels from Hooligan Press, a non profit making group.

DEAD HOME

Survival Edition

Surviving in Britain in the modern day isn't easy if you reject the State, or if the State rejects you. Even when it comes to the basic necessities of life—such as housing.....if you don't conform to the States accepted 'norm' you might have to go without. And plenty of people right now would be without a home if it wasn't for them opting for radical solutions.

This book is put together to show others exactly what alternative housing options are to be had.

House Ourselves

Price is £2:40 + 60p. P&P. All cheques and postal orders can be made payable to 'Suspect'. If you want to send cash then that's up to you, obviously we'll not rip anyone off, but copies of 'Ideal Home' will only be sent on receipt of money. It's not our fault if cash gets lost in the post.

TERRY DEAN FOR HIGH JUMP

Terry Dean, a former squatter in Brixton is still in prison, facing about 30 serious charges, including burning down Tulse Hill Post Office and a furniture shop in Coldharbour Lane during the last Brixton Uprising. He has just completed his second hunger strike, which he began on June 16th (Soweto Day) and ended on July 27th, physically, he is now in a very bad way, with kidney and liver problems.

Terry left home at 12, at 14 he got 6 months detention, followed by 2 years youth prison and 2 years prison. He came to Brixton about '83 then ended up in prison, then mental prison.

On his release in '88 he returned to Brixton, where he was a well-known local character.

He used to give his entire dole check to Oxfam and tried to start a charity to help people in Africa. He also used to open up squats for people, and even opened a free-food kitchen for a while in a local squat.

I'm not saying Terry Dean is a Saint. He has been, accused of anti-social behaviour in the past. When the riots broke and the cops were run out Terry acted pretty crazy, but he did NOT burn the Post Office (all there agree that a small fire began in the looting & only a 1/2 hour later did it go up). They accuse him also of burning the Furniture shop, but that happened a mile away at the SAME TIME. Terry's squat was one of those raided weeks later, nothing found, he not home.

CURRENT LOCAL SQUATTING GROUPS

These squatting groups are about self-help and exchanging information. They cannot exist without support and give-and-take. They are not alternative estate agents, and always need help keeping their empty property lists up to date. Your information can be invaluable to a homeless person!

8TH EDITION SQUATTERS' HANDBOOK

The 8th Edition of the Squatters' Handbook is finally published and available.

On behalf of Advisory Service for Squatters who wrote and compiled it, I am sorry it's so long overdue - still it's worth the wait. It has more pages than the 7th Edition and contains a vast amount of info which is invaluable to the squatter or people thinking of squatting. Unfortunately, the amount of pictures has had to be reduced to accommodate more necessary information. The price has been pegged at 50p and we've also managed to print 1500 free copies which are going to the squatters groups in London and elsewhere. It is hoped that the Handbook will reach far and wide at a time when homelessness is increasing and conditions get more desperate. By post, the total cost for one is 67p - for larger amounts, order them and we will send you an invoice with the books from:

SAVE OUR CRECHE

The 'squatter's creche' in Brixton now overdue for a high court eviction, is still going strong. The eviction has been delayed "for political reasons" after 25 mothers and supporters invaded the last Lambeth Housing Meeting. If it goes ahead this will be the 4th time in less than 2 years, and will be a direct decision by Linda Bellos, the new Labour Party leader, to continue the vindictive campaign of Ted Knight.

ABOUT THE PLAYGROUP ITSELF....

We are open on Monday and Wednesday. The average day: at about eleven the first kids are being dropped off by their mums. By one the group is usually 5-8 toddlers, the youngest is 16 months old. Older children sometimes come along too, to play with the small ones and lend a hand. Three to four adults look after them.

After that more playing, drawing, painting, dough-fighting-I mean sculpting-kneading about, reading stories. The smallest ones are by then pretty tired and fall asleep although there's not really enough facilities for that. The mothers start to come back to pick up the kids. By 6 they've all gone.

Save Our Creche

ONE CRECHE WORKER:

I only started looking after kids a year and a half ago, and it's great fun getting to know them, and seeing them and getting on together. It can be totally knackerin' though, keeping your eyes open all the time to see if they're doing something stupid. It does 'em a lot of good, not to be with their mothers non-stop. They all used to want your attention all the time, but now most of the time they seem quite happy playing together without interference from us.

It usually starts with playing inside, and if the weather allows it, in the park/playground. At usually four o'clock most of the kids start to get hungry (whinge, moan) and a meal is prepared, usually their favourite meal which is mashed spuds with baked beans, or simply toast, afterwards fruit.

It's great when they've been out running wild for a few hours, and fall asleep on their way home. The space is still a bit small I think, on a rainy day, with all the prams and that, we could make improvements, but it's a bit demoralising when the future of this place is always so uncertain. When I was small I always had my sisters, brothers, cousins, neighbours, there seemed to be loads of us, roughly the same age. It was a good laugh, here I've seen some kids getting really isolated and bored and their mums too, inside the house. The group is strong and we'll go on somewhere else if the council gets stropky again.

I'd like to see lots more mothers and kids getting involved, so that in the end we'll be functioning every day. Come along and have a look-you're welcome.

BRIGHTON ARMS CONFERENCE

BRIGHTON ARMS CONFERENCE
In the week-end of the 10th of June a secret arms conference took place in Brighton. On sale were the latest designs and inventions for microwave technology. Microwave technology is already in use at Greenham army base where the low level microwaves are directed at the protesters. The long term effects of these waves are hardly knownt but on short term it causes nausea, weakness, tiredness, irregular and painful menstruation etc. The effects are also similar to those of headaches etc. The effects of microwaves are similar to those of microwave cookers, radio- and radar signals. Some Greenham women do vehemently deny using this technology, but some of the other conference goers were less embarrassed about it. Countries that sent along sales men, included Iran and Chili. Some even told the demonstrators how proud they were to buy the new technology for their country.

It is not clear what the microwaves are going to be used for probably it will be used for crowd control etc. The Greenham women who are investigating and gathering information about microwaves ('getting zapped') have been threatened in their own home. The official media completely ignored the conference, and the authorities are not giving any comment.

The latest Council conspiracy to keep empty property empty, is to pay money to outgoing tenants to leave up nets and curtains in their old homes. In Southwark, obliging tenants can expect £50 reward to cover the cost of the curtains. In Lambeth, the council are too mean to cough up £50, but merely have a policy of requesting the departing tenants to leave them up. This practice may not be confined to these boroughs alone, which means there's a lot more empty property than meets the eye.

Wanna buy a squat ? Only £50! Guaranteed for a year! Positively no protected intending occupier due to move in! Plus all services in perfect working order- only £50! These are the sort of empty promises made by bastards willing to exploit homeless people - it's been happening in Camden (hello Andy Cosmos - are you receiving ?) and Stockwell Park Estate. Let's hope it ceases.

It's now inevitable that limited legislation will be introduced before parliament to criminalize certain forms of trespass. It's been reported in some papers that trespass by mass convoys of (hippy)travellers on private (and public ?) land will be made illegal. It'll be interesting to see if the bill goes any further.

News from Brighton is that squatters occupying a privately owned hotel on the sea front, were in the throes of being physically evicted when the very rich owner offered them £300 to make a peaceful exit. The situation appears even stranger as the owner's thugs had already managed to gain entry and change the lock on the front door! It was after these actions that the owner offered the dough, which was readily accepted. Sounds like Amsterdam! I wish I'd been at the party that night.

Warehouse parties are fast becoming a thing of the past in trendy Camden. Successive police raids and booze confiscation has meant that the alternative capitalists are losing thousands of mega-bucks. (What a shame). One of the fine young capitalists even ventured to ask someone from Advisory Service for Squatters to attend one of these jollifications and desuade the pigs from illegally evicting them! Some hope!

In Lambeth's Tulse Hill Estate, it's been rumoured that the resident squatters are going to get organised in time for the next eviction blitz. A couple of active people have been squatting there for a few weeks and think it's time to get organised.

Intimidation and evictions by caretakers (7) and thugs has been reaching fever pitch in one or two estates in Tower Hamlets. Squatters have been routinely evicted while out and people threatened with eviction while they're in! Surely some councillors can be spiked in the bum about these atrocities!

STONEHENGE 86 WE WENT FOR IT

In 1985 the authorities stopped the people's free Festival with brute force...one way of saying "Hey look we're a bunch of fascists", when we're supposed to live in a nice cosy democracy. They saw the bad press it gave them, hence the 'nice' police behaviour this year.

The Stonehenge 86 campaign began in Sept 85. English Heritage invited people into holding a Stonehenge 86 to meet with them. They said we could have a one day solstice ritual dance on a "ROTA BASIS", tickets only, obtainable by writing to them. We told them they were mad and it wouldn't work, what we wanted was a site near the stones to hold a festival on. They approached the MOD (army) for us and it was decided at the highest level to say NO. Eng. Heritage then said the festival wasn't feasible and banned it again. They got Injunctions against 49 named people and got landowners, farmers and MOD to ban us from any land within a 4 mile radius of Stonehenge.

The campaign got itself organised, we held benefits, a mail order range of T shirts, posters and books was arranged. We held monthly meetings in N. London attended by people from all over England. We managed to do a newsletter after each meeting detailing what we were doing. Around the start of June 'Festival Eye' came out, giving details of this years festival and last years events.

When June came around we were prepared and ready to go. A group of about 30 walkers left Jubilee Gdns on June 1st, to get to Salisbury on the 14th. They set off in high spirits, not really knowing if they'd make it or what lay ahead.

I caught up with the walk a week later at the old Roman town Callera near Reading. This was a happy, well organised bunch, we lived together, sharing whatever we had, there was communal food for all, and a van to carry the bags while everyone walked to the next site. About 30 stayed with the walk, with others coming and going, for gigs signing on, etc.

On Thurs June 12th we arrived at Figsbury ring, just 4 miles outside Salisbury. By Fri. night we had nearly 200 of us, we all sat round the fire, having just made a massive communal meal, smoking chillums and discussing the next days carnival through Salisbury.

We set off on a beautiful Sat. morning, not knowing if anyone would join us or what. The cops had said we wouldn't be allowed into Salisbury centre, they were very freaked out by the rumour of a 'Naked Protest'!! We were herded down a ring road, to be greeted by the wonderful sight of 100's of people coming towards us! We all joined up and marched along. Every time I looked around more and more people were joining in. Cars, ambulances, trucks and motorbikes appeared from nowhere and joined in. People waved from their houses, the sun shone. We felt great. By the time we got out of Salisbury we had 60 vehicles, about 50 motorbikes and 1000 odd walkers. We reached our site for the evening at Gravely Woods at about 8.00pm, still all together, except for one woman who was injured on the way. We sat up late, got stoned and relaxed.

The next day we decided to move, the druids and some locals had sussed out a site for us, but when we had a site meeting to discuss it, someone blabbed out our destination. As we lined up the police chopper flapped above us, announcing through its loud-hailer that we must not go to Yarnbury Castle.

So off we went, hooray, the convoy's on the move again! This time we were much better organised, we had a CB up the front, one in the middle, and one at the back, and me on my motorbike running up and down, making sure there were no breakdowns, stoppages etc. The front vehicle had sussed another site. As we neared it the pigs blocked every side road and the gate. There were loads of them in the field we wanted to go in. By now it was dark and we had nowhere to go. So the pigs blocked us in at both ends of a small country road and we crashed out there for the night. It was an uneasy night, we could see riot pigs in the field and they kept shining their van lights on us. Everyone was restless, saying 'Oh we're going to be trashed!'

Early next morning a despatch bike went out and found us a site. This time it was council land, great! So off we set again, stopping 1st for fuel and food. As we tried to take a side turn the pigs blocked it and nicked a few people, giving one a good kicking in the process. We held a meeting, should we go on or should we go to the nick? People were still very paranoid about being trashed. They forgot that this year the pigs were 'on good behaviour', so in a way we had the upper hand. We got moving again, I went on ahead and did a decoy down a side road, fooling the pigs into thinking we were going there rather than further on.

We chugged along, but had the bad luck to have about 6 breakdowns, so we sent an advance party of fast vehicles to take the next site at Hanging Langford. It overshot the site. I stopped and told everyone to turn in, we'd got the site, and we could tice ceremony, even the druids did their aloof little piece.

We gradually regrouped at King Samborne in Hampshire. On Sat June 21st most of us were released on bail, the Brixton crew were all back together. That night we were all entertained by a magical storm of sheet lightning, which, when it flashed was as good as daylight. We each took it in turns dashing out of the tents to stir the dinner, which was bubbling away on the fire.

We gradually got ourselves back together, people came out of nick, impounded vehicles were retrieved from the compound, people got their tents and keep it for a while! The walkers arrived and we towed the breakdowns to the site, someone else went to check on our friends who'd been nicked.

People unwound from the stress of the night before, some hash arrived and we all got happily wrecked, watching some of the most awful music I've ever heard. The site was great, right next to a lake, the people were great too. We had a site meeting every day, someone did a communal wood run, shit pits were dug, free food was available. We swam in the river, it was great...We made a small space where people lived together quite happily without authority. We'd made anarchy!

As the solstice approached our minds turned to getting to Stonehenge. Locals came and showed us a different route to Yarnbury Castle, some people secretly decided to leave on Thursday night when the cops wouldn't expect it, but unfortunately there wasn't enough of them so it didn't happen.

We left on Fri morning with 100 vehicles in a line and 100's of walkers. People cheered us as we made our way up the A36. I was zapping up and down the convoy like mad trying to keep everyone moving (nearly impossible at times!) As we crawled up the A36 we came to a roadblock of about 200 pigs. They told us to disperse or be arrested, we laughed at them. I rode off trying to find a friendly farmer, but he was impossible to find (he had offered us a site). By the time I returned the pigs had moved in and nicked over 200 people (and many vehicles) in a very nice way, as if they were on a CND demo. They even nicked some of our friends from Brixton. People were then scattered in all directions, not knowing what to do or where to go. Some of us squatted a field, but were soon kicked off by the police, then we were even more dispersed. During this I got to touch the Chief constables hand, who accused me of being the leader of one of the groups!

That night people got to Stonehenge in dribs and drabs, there were a few hundred there for the sol-sleeping bags back. We managed to unwind a bit down there, despite the shit we got from a group of travellers who had established the site, who viewed us as outsiders to the festival scene, despite the fact that none of them had made any effort to get to Stonehenge or establish a festival.

I left a few days later, feeling very happy. It had been worth the nine months work. We didn't get to Stonehenge en masse, but we knew we wouldn't. But what we 1000 or so who bothered to turn up did was just as good. We showed that by standing together we are strong. We proved to ourselves we can live without the mind numbing effects of authority, and get on by working co-operatively together. I hope the people involved will build on this experience. We went for it!

STONEHENGE

PULLENS VICTORY

The Pullens resistance and resquats were a great Victory. But it seemed bad to us, as we came late at 10am to find a evicted, cop saturation and rain rain rain. About 100 of us were blocking doors, jeering, stabbing tyres. It was SLOW, heavy barricades! Rain stopped & band struck up merrily again. More paint splatters the pigs, cheering as they hit the next door. Van Burgh removal lorries, council, TV, thugs, scabs & wall to wall FILTH. It took too long, each door had to be smashed to bits, by 12noon they still had 5 flats to evict. In fact we were actually winning!

D.I.Y. TRANSMITTER PLANS

4w complete

THIS IS IT!! After years of messing about. Do It Yourself Plans for a simple FM Radio Transmitter. (Courtesy of Radio Crimes and Free The Airwaves). This design gives about 4 watt output, which is plenty to start off with, if you can get up high. The parts shouldn't cost more than 35 pounds (excluding test gear). For the more ambitious Radio Crimes will soon be publishing a design to take this transmitter up to 30 watts power.

4 watt VHF transmitter, parts and instructions

* Get some double-sided copper clad PCB, enough to make boards in. I, II and IV, and a piece 1 1/2" x 3". Cut PCB with stanley knife - score, bend, snap. Cut islands with junior hacksaw. Clean with emery cloth. Drill holes 1/8" bit. Mark islands with felt tip A to X (see diags. II and IV). Mark board with islands with Lochite superglue - one drop will do. Clean islands of any glue. Apply liberal amount of solder to islands with a decent iron, 25 watt Weller is a good buy, small style.

1. 3SK51 or 40673 du-gate mosfet transistor
Cut two legs off to about 2/10", opposite sticking-out bit. Apply solder. Try not to handle transistor, but use legs to position. Stick these legs to islands B and L. Cut other legs, press down and solder to islands D and F.

2. 33pf capacitor
Same principle, cut one leg, apply solder, use other leg to position.

3. Wind 2 x 33pf capacitors legs together. Solder to islands F and the negative rail, which is the board.

4. 330 Ω resistor, 1/4 watt (orange/orange/brown)
Keep close to 3, island F to board.

5. 6/7/8, 4 x 220K Ω 1/4 watt (red/red/yellow)

9. 33pf

10. 56pf

11. BB105B or BB205B varicap diode
Spot nearest island.

12. 9V1 zener diode
Line nearest island.

13. 4N7 capacitor (or 4700pf, or .0047uf)

14. 68K Ω (blue/grey/orange)

15. .1UF capacitor (or 100N, or 100,000 pf)

16. 110 Ω (brown/brown/brown)

17. Single piece of insulated 3-amp wire

18. 2-22 pf foil trimmer/variable capacitor
Odd leg is positive and goes to island G

19. MC108 Toko VHF mounted coil inductor 5.5 turns, 0.64 μ H

This is the most tricky component in the circuit, due to difficulty in raising ferrite core. Sharpen a piece of plastic with Stanley Knife to act as trimmer. Be patient. Order a number of different coils near this one, so that you can experiment, as it is this component and the variable capacitor above that combine to create the frequency for transmission.

RF choke (fixed inductor)
This isn't really made, but you have to build it yourself. Get a dozen EX 115 ferrite beads and some 28-gauge, enamelled SWG copper wire. Wind wire through middle 6 times. Remove enamel from the ends, best way to do this is to burn off then use emery cloth.

Power Amp Stage Dia. III

P.A. - actual size.

21. 56pf

22. 10K Ω

23. 4N7

24. 2N3866 transistor

Before bending legs into right position relative to islands, we must heatsink transistor. Small heatsink will do. Plus we need silicon grease in a syringe. Put grease around sides of transistor can, prise open heatsink with screwdriver, slide tranny in, take out screwdriver. Bend legs and cut. Solder. Make sure with crossover that no legs touch.

25. 18-gauge enamelled SWG copperwire

Wind wire 9 times around pencil, shape legs, scrape off enamel and solder.

28. 4N7

29. RF choke, as above

30. 2N3866 The larger the heatsink, the better.

31. SWG18 gauge enamel copperwire 10 turns this time.

32. 2-22 pf variable

- Positive leg to P. Cut off leg facing leg on 0.

- The first board can now be tested once we - have added piece of UF67 Coax, or any heavy-duty 7mm CB Coax. (See diag. V). We must fix Coax to a UHF male plug (see diag. VII). Plus we need stereo 1/4" jackplug socket plus 250K Ω log pot and some insulated 3-amp wire.

- To properly test and develop we need:

- a) a power supply - a CB 13.8v 3-amp unit, or a 12v car/motorbike battery.

- b) a power/SWR meter - capable of up to 150mHz, plus dummy load up

- c) A frequency counter. This is the most expensive item. A Thandor PFM200A is the best value

- We could do without a frequency counter, but if anything is slightly out, ie off the VHF band, than a radio receiver is no good to find a fault.

- d) A cassette-player with a 5-pin Din plug.

- e) A radio receiver

- Fit to power supply, fit to power meter. Turn on frequency counter.

- Set counter to 0.2 gate, put probe into left-hand socket (probe can be just a piece of single core insulated wire). Turn on power. Adjust parts no. 18 and no. 19. See the reading change. Choose a free frequency. To adjust power, turn part no. 32 (to adjust variable capacitors, use a plastic trimmer).

- If all's going well, plug in cassette (5-pin Din plug to 1/4" Jack Tandys). Put in your favourite tape, turn on radio, and if everything's okay you should hear your tape on the radio. If something is wrong, check and double-check. If you can't work it out, send board back to us via Free The Airwaves and we will see what's wrong. If everything's okay then you can go to the next stage.

33. 3-90 pf variable capacitor (foil trimmer).

34. As above

35. 2 and a half turns of 18 gauge tin coated SWG using a 1/4" drill as former.

36. 470 resistor.

37. RF choke, same components but only 3 turns.

38. MRF237 transistor Large heatsink.

39. 4 turns 18-gauge tin-coated SWG Pencil former.

40. 10 Ω resistor

41. .1pf

Approximately 480 one - mile - radius local VHF/M commune - ization stations are possible in London. In the most dense areas we are talking about 50,000 people, eg. the Elephant and Castle district. For less dense areas, where, say, only 12,000 people live in a 5 - mile radius, we are trying to develop a 10 watt transmitter. Again, if anyone knows any useful information, don't sit on it, give it to Free The Airwaves.

 We are now ready to fit into a box (see diag. VI). Get 8" x 3" x 1 1/2" aluminium box. Drill holes. To put in divider, solder along dotted line in diag. 111 and solder along side of divider. Don't solder together yet. Solder TCSWG18 wire between earth and islands P and Q. With the second wire make sure there is no contact with earth. Now solder divider, also making sure no contact with P and Q connection. Last points to solder, using same wire: from island W to centre of UHF female plug, and from earth to outer. Solder 4N7 capacitor from the stereo plug to earth. see dia. VI for positions)

Testing Driver Stage: Diag. V

If all well on testing, using same procedure as with first board - you should get nearly 5 watts with the 13.8v supply. To trim up power, go through each variable capacitor starting from island P until you get the maximum reading from each capacitor.

Now you must make an aerial. Get 10 metres of UR67 Coax. 4 metres of 1/2" aluminium tubing (either go to a specialist metal supplier, or get an old H or X 407 VHF TV aerial). Cut to the frequency required (see diag. V11 for calculation). Plus we need some 1/2" electrical conduit and about 3 feet of 2" by 1" wood.

To tune aerial to its maximum efficiency, we want a setting nearest to 1 on the SWR scale: Experiment first with dummy load. Remember, maximum watts and a rubbish SWR reading won't help you get a better signal.

To test press SWR button, press SET button, slide scale till the meter reads S.I.T. then press TEST button- if its properly tuned, the needle will drop to 1. Now try with aerial- don't worry about power reading- with a setting of 2.5 SWR, this will get you over a mile with a 12v battery. Try aerial in different positions and locations. The best results will only come with experience and experimentation.

PETE has been FUCKING INCARCERATED for being an @ and anti-racist. We are furious. We reprint some of his faction cartoon strips - so FUCK OFF PIGS - You can't shut him up.

PETE has been hounded by Special Branch for the past year since 'Stop Henley' where he was nicked, photographed and accused of being a 'Leader' of 'Class War'.

He is not even in C.W.

They caught him again last year while they were beating the Convoy to shit, nicked his camera and did him for the crime of 'Criminal Damage to a Bean-Field' (A case still to come up).

Since then they have been on his trail, determined to do him for SOMETHING. Someone high up had said STOP THOSE TERRIBLE DRAWINGS.

They came round to his home SIX WEEKS after the anti-apartheid demo, got in and showed him pics of him at the demo, throwing a small black object which he said was a mars bar.

THAT was the worst photo. He got 3 months, and the sentence was confirmed at appeal.

ON 30th Sept. last year, Pete was walking home just after the uprising. Riot vans were cruising the streets, doors open. They lept out, grabbed two other passers-by and Pete, who was just opening his door. They accused them of looting the off-licence on the corner which had been smashed HOURS earlier. BUT they had no evidence.

The sergeant sent a WPC to the off-licence and she took a six-pack from the wrecked window.

THAT was the evidence and Pete was arrested. This ridiculous but heavy looting charge is coming up shortly at the Old Bailey.

PIRATE

The Crackdown continues. Armed with new laws and the Police Bill, and flash new detection gear, the DTI (Dept of Trade and Industry) and the fifth have been busting pirates and even their studios right left and centre.

Community Radio (CR) is dead. The CR industry mushroomed since last year, with 127 outfits applying for the 5 local licences (with many strings attached) offered in the London area. They were supposed to announce the winners last Feb - but delay followed delay - till Douglas Turd announced that the whole scheme had been dropped - basically cos he thought lefties were disguising themselves as straight groups to go for a licence.

We certainly hope that all these groups (music, community lefties, 'ethnic', etc.) will now GO FOR IT and become pirates! So flooding the airwaves that they cannot be stopped.

The Free The Airwaves campaign has recently been calling for local pirates, as the best way to break through the Crackdown. The above 4 worst design only goes a few miles, yet locally you may be the loudest clearest station! There's no more reason why every anarchist, squatters, women, ethnic, etc., group shouldn't have their own transmitter...until, as happened overseas and with CB here, the law becomes a complete farce. There is room for 480 1 1/2 square mile pirates in London, even on the present restricted waveband!

For the guerrilla pirate 'break ins' are all the rage, in the line of Radio Arthur and Radio Wapping. For this you really need more power, but at least locally its quite simple to break into, for eg. the LBC nine o'clock Lies with your own short message. (But make it SHORT, you could go to jail if caught!).

Pullens... etc.

then a thought began to occur i.e. How can a council allocate smashed up flats with no doors to tenants at 2p.m.....

'LUCKOFF, YOU SCABBY SCUM' I yelled at the officers yet again 'Go on strike, they'll have you murdering Jews next week'. Indeed the pigs were not enjoying this one as they were met in the last street with buckets of cold water

'WE WANT PETROL' We shouted, as the sound system blared out 'Anarchy in the U.K.' from the barricaded flat (They got in, nevertheless, by sheer brute force, though at the next flat they had to give up... There were solid concrete blocks preventing the scum from entering!).

Bailiffs, council thugs and piggies all lined up and then pissed off as we jeered and cheered from the sidestreets. We all went back to the Pullens Centre for coffee and a meeting. Many squatters had crashed out after being up all night, but the place was packed and downstairs was full to the ceiling with evicted possessions and furniture. Outside the streets were littered with peoples furniture. For the evict-ion had been too late, too slow, and above all too much bad press for a council that strives to be seen to work for the poor and oppressed! They had given up on the plan to move peoples stuff out the area on the hire fleet!

A few squatters got up and talked at the meeting, explaining that no-one would be affected by 'PIO' orders if the flats were re-taken by 2.30pm, and proposing that people who wanted to re-squat with them, put down their names and numbers..and volunteers and tools would be gathered. Then Piers Corbyn (The ex-squatters leader, now a Southwark Councillor) came in with some politician friend of his. I was so tired that the meeting didn't immediately throw them out of the window-but apparently Piers had been arrested, albeit briefly, for trying to let the tyres down on a removal van. He and his friend 'took control' and proposed that we should wait until they had been and pleaded with the council on our behalf..and that the evicted should put down their names to be rehoused in the evicted squats... Luckily they left, and we got down to business with a list and a crowbar and set out to re-squat.

It was all so easy, with few cops about, and in ten minutes, we'd ripped the boardup crews best efforts off half-a-dozen squats. One was immediately re-squatted but there was no sign of the other evictees. Then we started carrying furniture back into squats, phew, what a job! Then we found a woman ready to move back in and set out to put a new door and lock on her flat. No easy proposition as the old one was in little bits, the door frame badly damaged and the promised tools hadn't arrived. But the magic of Pullens worked again....

that is to say that a couple of years back the Pullens tenants had invited squatters to move into empty flats, and half the squatters had become legal tenants in this way. We only had to knock on a few doors and we had all the tools we needed. In fact we spent the whole afternoon working on that one door... What with finding a door, cutting it to size, repairing the frame, fitting a lock, etc, etc... But all the flats were re-squatted by the deadline, at least symbolically, by sticking something in the doorway with a legal notice on it... And we had the TV cameras there to prove it! The media coverage was extensive and fairly friendly (Fuck the Guardian). James IV even filmed an eviction from inside as the door was smashed down! The media were there thanks to the hard work of the Pullens Tenants assn. and SNOW. They were friendly, especially the South Lunnun Press which has always hated squatters!

... But because it was a chance to attack a split in a Labour council, not that we cared about that! In fact the council couldn't even find scab tenants to take most of the flats. (The one we repaired had been repeatedly offered to a friend of the squatters, who had been living in Italy for 6 months, with threatening letters that he wouldn't get offered one again). A few would-be tenants turned up, and immediately left amiably when the situation was explained to them. One bloke showed up, desperate, and said they threatened to have him deported to Nigeria where he faced trial, if he refused one of the flats. He was helped out.

Pullens is still squatted, it's a wonderful place, why not drop round to the centre and have a look round. Pullens is where the squatters stood firm with goodwill and good tactics from start to finish - 'Pullens Lives' should be our battle cry and our taunt.

At the same time as the Battle for Pullens a 'normal' mass eviction was happening at nearby Rockingham Estate, with 22 flats evicted in scarcely an hour and then secured by the council with Security Guards on duty.

However, fresh from victory at the Pullens, supporters went to Rockingham at midnight to resquat the lot. 5 of those resquatted were re-evicted next morning, with bailiffs and council spouting 'PIOs' and 'Restitution' and Piers Corbyn spouting 'Illegal Eviction'. Only 8 of those resquatted could be firmly held:

SPLIT LABOUR STILL EVICT

The reason all these evictions happened together was that the mass eviction orders were almost out of date. In the Local Elections rival Parties had vied for votes by bashing squatters. Now, after Pullens all had changed, or had it? The Labour Party Executive and even the Leader of Southwark had come out AGAINST the evictions to the media... Yet scarcely a week later the bailiffs & pigs moved in on Kinglake & Alvey Ests, the heartland of SNOW!

We didn't get word and missed the action. What happened briefly... the whole show turned up at 7.00am to evict, but squatters and tenants had dragged skips across the entrances & were ready to resist. They all pissed off. VICTORY! But returned a few days later by surprise and evicted the whole lot. In the end about half were successfully

FILTH

The police OP on 24th July was the end result of the pigs whipping up false public hysteria that 'armed drug dealers' are openly selling heroin and murdering each other on the streets of Brixton', and the police Tacticians whose job is to create as much DIS-order as possible as an excuse to get even more cash in their pockets (they got a 7½ rise the same week) and for tooling up to oppress the people even more!

KILL ALL RACIST SCUM

Police teams then searched the sewers and sniffer dogs checked out the building to find any drugs left behind in the commotion (or by the police). The end of the siege was signalled by the D11 armed squad beating a retreat before the TV cameras arrived (though they blocked off the road for another 3 hours), they had packed their guns out of sight in neat blue bags, and I suspect the green bags in the back of their blue van contained their new riot guns. Next the riot pigs pulled out, climbing into the hired BRS lorries, making mock ape and monkey noises. After that tons of filth appeared from nowhere (they must have been the police from the train) and got into waiting coaches for doggy bags and congrats from the super. Taking advantage of the diminishing police presence a near riot ensued with a loud firework and a few bricks thrown. The OP was coordinated from bases set up around the area, the coaches used were seen parked up around Brixton the day before.

It isn't in the corporate interest to show you an accurate picture of reality.... reality gets funny sometimes....

The police's occupation of the frontline was symbolic to them as in previous riots they have had to take it back from the people and its timing was perfect to catch on to the patriotic hysteria that was stirred up by the Royal Bastards getting married the day before, with all the accompanying pompous shite, and the Daily Mail readers lapping up the sour milk and total lies, published to aid ailing circulation, going on about drug peddling, gun toting political crazies on the streets of Brixton (the police found, or planted one pistol in the raids). The police attack was designed for maximum force and no questions in parliament whatever happened (the 'recess began next day') in attempt to trash the whole of Brixton over the following weekend..on the day AFTER the raid a police bulldozer, coaches, about 20 green riot buses, armoured land rovers and fuck knows what else were still parked up on Upper Tulse Hill Rd.

This is another attempt to stir up inner city racist tension by the by the fascistic media and nazi police, so that 'Revenge Riots' can be suppressed with their new long batons, riot guns, tear gas and heavy sentences for rioters. Does this mean that every inhabitant of Brixton, Handsworth, St Pauls and the Mets 'top twenty' riot flashpoint estates will be arrested for LIVING in a riot zone?

The crisis in Greece is still growing more desperate daily, with the discredited 'socialist' government, now a pawn of the US and the World Bank, unleashing a new wave of economic repression and strikes threaten to bring the whole place to a halt. Greece is no holiday in the sun if you live there. The fascist movement is reviving fast, openly aided by the police. Meanwhile the state is mounting a fearsome police campaign against the extra-parliamentary opposition, ..the independent left, the punks, feminists, but above all against the small but strong and combative anarchist movement.

The anarchists in fact have occupied a key space in the resistance, and the war against the anarchists is rarely off the front pages. The police have tried mass arrests, routine and horrific torture and lashings, huge raids and occupations of the Exa chia Sq, anarchist area of Athens, frame-ups, black propaganda, beatings and straightforward murder on the streets.

But the young militants just will not shut up, and on occasions (eg the Tech. University Seige when they threatened to blow up the building & themselves to gain the release of hungerstriking comrades in prison) they have received wide support and become an inspiration for the strikes and protests of the working people.

The latest round began on May 9th, when the @'s had a march against nukes, as Chernobyl radiation spread south across the peninsula. The police charged the demo, brutally beating and arresting 11 people. Next day a similar demo was again viciously attacked. 2 days later the police tried to charge the @ section of a big lefty march against nukes. This time they got petrol bombed, with bikes burnt and nine cops hurt, but 39 of us arrested. The war had begun, again. In the following days 13 @s were tortured by lashing in prison, dozens more were nicked, at a Salonica festival and in another police raid on Exarchia Sq in Athens etc.

May 25th was the fascists day, with big demos in most cities demanding dictatorship. Police and fascists joined together to attack the anarchist counterdemos, seriously wounding many comrades. Then 4 @s were nicked in Lamia for distributing an anti nuke poster, and 6 got six months prison each for demonstrating against the fascist Le Pen's visit back in 84.

On 1st June we hit back, destroying the presses of the Gov. paper Exormisi in a big arson attack claimed by 'Anarchist Action'. And on 5th June the Salonica comrades squatted the Industrial Studies School, threatening to blow it up if the police attacked.

From here we go to Black Flag No. 153.

As we reported in the last issue of Black Flag, dozens of Anarchists have been arrested over the last two months in a crude attempt by the State to break the back of the Greek anarchist movement. As we go to press, twenty-one anarchists remain in prison facing a variety of charges (including attempted murder) and many have been tortured (two so badly that they now have difficulty walking properly). Five anarchists went on hunger strike on June 17th in response to the tortures and beatings and would obviously appreciate any form of solidarity from Britain or elsewhere (see below).

Eleven of the twenty-one arrests were made during an anti-nuclear demonstration through Athens on May 13th while the others were arrested in Salonica after a petrol bomb attack on a police car on May 19th. (two policemen were seriously injured in the attack, hence the attempted murder charge).

To continue pressure on the anarchists, Katarina Latropoulou (a well known anarchist lawyer from Athens) was arrested by police on June 22nd in a vicious frame-up. Police have linked her with two escaped prisoners who they claim she helped while they were on the run. Drug squad officers also planted heroin and hashish in her home to ensure a heavy sentence if she is convicted. The case, known popularly as a police fiasco, has caused so much public controversy that both Greek Prime Minister Papandreu and his Minister for Public Order have been forced to make public statements about the case. Predictably, they claim the arrest was totally justified and also hinted that Katarina had links with the terrorist world as well as the drug scene.

In response to this latest frame-up, three thousand people gathered outside the University of Athens and marched to the houses of parliament on June 26th in solidarity with Katarina. A second demonstration was organised by anarchists on July 3rd but it was banned by the police and a police cordon was thrown around the university of Athens for several days to ensure no more demonstrations would take place.

Despite the cordon, four Anarchists managed to slip through and display banners denouncing police repression on July 3rd. Fifty more Anarchists broke through the cordon on the following day and held a press conference in the university.

On June 1st an incendiary bomb exploded outside the ruling socialist party's newspaper office, causing fifteen million drachmas worth of damage. A second bomb exploded outside the Young Socialist's newspaper office a week later. Both actions being claimed by the 'Anarchist Action' group to underline growing police repression.

On June 23rd a third bomb exploded outside the Ministry of the Environment causing extensive damage. This bomb was claimed by the 'Revolutionary Popular Struggle' group in solidarity with the Exarchia Square Community (a meeting place for Anarchists in Athens).

The 5 Anarchists on Hunger Strike are:

1. Yannis Balis
2. Basil Maganadelis
3. Tasos Kypreos
4. Andreas Barhoutis
5. Panayotis Galanakis

Animal War Escalates

The A.L.F. is now 10 years old, and still the campaign against cruelty and exploitation of animals is growing and spreading, in a situation resembling guerrilla war. A.L.F. bulletins are still coming in (despite most of the original press-officers getting 2 year "conspiracy" charges and sentences) packed full with news of 100's and 100's of attacks from every corner of the country and beyond. Many of the actions are for publicity, warning and propaganda, but a large number are violent actions against property, with damage adding up to millions of pounds.

This year the police have hit back with the Animal Squads using infiltration, tip-offs, phone-tapping, interrogation etc. to trap whole networks of A.L.F. supporters. Many are in prison more are facing massive fines. But the actions are so widespread, so de-centralised and the activists so dedicated that they have actually increased WE WOULD FILL UP THIS WHOLE PAPER JUST TO LIST THEM!!

The 'ALF' is a general term, the movement includes a bewildering range of Leagues, Groups, Federation, Militias of every degree of militant,

Many of the ALF and their prisoners, are anarchists. Most @ squatters are by now vegetarian and the campaigns make a lot of sense to us. Though older and class war @'s are inclined to

LAB ANIMALS FREED IN RAID

A group calling itself RATS was formed in November 1985 and its primary aim is to raise funds for the Animal Liberation Front (Supporters Group). WAR FACTORY ROBBED

On the night of Wed 19th March anti-war activists did a big raid on MUIDEN CHEMIE, a munitions factory near Amsterdam, and stole all the records revealing vital and scary info on the spread of Nuclear Weapons.

MUIDEN CHEMIE makes Nuke Warhead charges, Neutron Grenades and now a new device, called the BBG, which increases the range of Nuke Artillery by 10km. They're are ready to go full production at the rate of 120,000 BBG's a year (releasing huge quantities of the deadliest poisons). The new factory, the RDM site, had its opening disrupted by more sabotage.

Worse than this, the stolen papers reveal that the RDM site is modifying the M114 Launcher to fire Nuclear Missiles (which will double range and increase Hol unds Nuclear Power 20 times). RDM and POUDEUR UNIE (Belgian) are first making 86 of these Nuke Modification Kits, for sale to Pakistan, Thailand, New Zealand, Venezuela and Brazil, as well as confirmed sales to Norway & Denmark.

So it seems the whole worlds going Nuclear, as far as long range artillery is concerned. Buy the kit and if you have the M114 (155mm) guns you can join the club. Some countries which have M114s are Spain, Singapore, Philippines, Sth Korea, Japan, and several Sth American and Middle Eastern Countries.

The name of the group who raided the War Factory is K.R. K.R.M.N., which, loosely translated, means "DONT SHAKE THE GELIGNITE".

WEINBERG'S VIEW

War against War

On the night of June the group RAT (Radical Anarchist Terrorgroup) burned down a train of ships on the canal near in Den Helder (in the north of Holland).

Don Heller is a complete militarized town, where the Dutch marine has got its base. It is also much visited by Nato-squadrons. Also on the terrain is a training camp with real targets and protected by anti-aircraft defence.

The trainset still containing lessons material, books, exercise-books, uniforms and small, burned down completely. Despite this the official media kept silent about the action, except for the local newspaper stating that a non-used hut was burned due to a short circuit. Nothing was said about the damage.

Nobods was arrested during the action and in a statement RAT stated:

This war just one action, but we can ensure the state that more will follow: we will go on to the strongest reminder: where there is corruption, stink and destruction, there will be RATS!!

RARA - Sabotage Racism

Rara (Revolutionary Anti-Racist Action) against Apartheid:

In the night of 8 to 9 July a wing of Van Leer Industry b/w's headquarters burned out. In this headquarter the management of one of 169 Dutch companies involved with South-Africa economy is settled. From the press-statement of the activists:

"This company is responsible for the repression within capitalistic society. We regard attacking imperialistic, economic, political and military institutions as our only perspective."

The pigs estimated the damage on fl.1 million, the company states that the amount of damage is not clear at this moment. Rara is not unknown cause they claimed responsibility for the attack in sept. '83 on the multinational "WURU" which suffered a 20 million damage caused by fire. On the third of september last year, Van Leer Industry b/w was also attacked when stones and paint changed the view of the building: fl. 100.000,- estimated damage.

Zwarte Kat Saved

Zwarte Kat, Reguliersgracht 116, was squatted on the 30th of March 1981, being an evicted illegal pension. A pension where the owner/speculator Verlinden, put up 40 persons in 6 small rooms to gain more money. This pension was closed down by the council because of fire-danger (2 people were killed in one of his other pensions when a fire broke out) and lacking facilities. Verlinden tried all kinds of tricks to remove the squatters and now at last, after 5 years, he seemed to have found an interested buyer. Together they made use of an infamous legal trick, known as the "Huisconstrat-truc": the buyer went to court to demand this cheap property from the company persons "belonging to him" in this case squatters (in the contract of sale it states that the property should be empty before a certain date). The seller not being able to meet this demand, requests police-support and gets it. This dirty trick caused evictions of dozens of squats since 1981, when it was invented by a clever lawyer.

As the squatters and their supporters were preparing hard resistance and this case was being typed, good news reached us: getting scared after continuous intimidations, the buyer withdrew. So Verlinden can start all over again! Ha!

Throw SHELL Throw well

SPLIT APARTHEID, BURGLARY OF ANGLO-AMERICAN, A SOUTH-AFRICAN "POLICE" Saturday, June 7th, the action group "Split Aparteid" broke in at the Dutch place of Anglo-American, a South-African multinational. The Anglo-American administration which caused the company to be "gratuitly put out" as a spokesman later declared. Two people changed into businessmen (as if by magic well prepared, tracked down the couple that was running the office on Saturday afternoon. Although they didn't trust it completely, the cleaners left the two businessmen behind for their meeting with the manager. All trucks were removed, after which they left the office leaving all the doors open. After a short time the group came to take everything away. The creative burglary resulted, according to the group, in a lost that shows that this office is dealing with billions. They still have to sort out the loot and are going to publish the most important information.

The press statement (containing more info about the company) "Anglo-American is a South-African multinational. She owns most of the gold and diamonds. Her position in the SA-economy is incredible strong. Grown via gold and diamonds she is now represented in all sectors of the economy. Of the 25 biggest South-African companies, 9 are controlled by Anglo (completely or for a large part) ("64) and 54,1% of the shares on the Johannesburg Exchange belong to the company. She is the worlds biggest producer of gold, diamonds (after the USSR) platinum (after the USSR) and vanadium and is amongst the ten biggest for copper, coal, uranium and manganese. Also on industrial products she is very important: the worlds biggest producer of explosives, diamond-borers and other specialized mining materials. She has interests in mines in 22 different countries and big minority shares in some of the biggest mining companies. In 1976 Anglo had strong ties with (and was part of) 73 multinational banking companies and industrial enterprises. For instance, in '80 Anglo was the biggest foreign investor in the USA, bigger than SHELL. Despite all this you won't find a-A corporation on lists of the biggest companies in the world. This is because of her complex structure: all separate members of the Anglo-group have cross-cross shares amongst each other, without having one overall company in which all figure are put together. So there are no figures about the total volume of business, but there are guesses in 1980 the total property of the group was estimated on 15 billion dollar. This certainly means Anglo-American is amongst the 50 biggest companies in the world.

The heart of Anglo contains 3 companies: Anglo-American Corporation, the Beers in SA and the Minerals and Resources Corporation (situated on Bermuda). Large parts of shares belong to S-Africans Harrie Oppenheimer and family. In the seventies a huge reorganisation of the international investments of the group was started. The centre of this were Minorco on Bermuda and Charter Consolidation in London.

I'm setting this against a backdrop of increased illegal direct action in Leeds over the past few months. Most of it has been ALF action, but there have been a few other actions as well. However, these other actions just give the impression of being token gestures because of their sparse nature. Having been hit (if it is hit at all), a business can sit back safe in the knowledge that it is safe for a few more years...

So while blacks die everyday fighting for their freedom in South Africa, a situation which they find themselves in with no choice, we have the choice of hundreds of targets with their stinking money propping up apartheid. And what happens? - a Barclays gets its cleanpoint glued up every now and again. FUCKING PARTRIDGE'S! IT'S IT'S IT'S...

The Tories are hitting on everyone and everyone who isn't sticking right, and so are hitting them to it. One Tory winnow gets smashed, yet the many Conservative Clubs are left untouched. And perhaps worst of all, the whole electoral process passes off smoothly in Leeds, and not one of the polling stations is hit the night before. Our alliance is taken at our illigence.

I'm not knocking anyone responsible for the few things that have happened - I will, at least someone is having a go! But one action will not change the world, and we must be careful not to get too self-congratulatory. It feels really good to do something and get away with it (and it should be a cause for celebration - don't let anyone tell you otherwise), but this one action should only be a start, and not an excuse to sit back for a few more months. We must both keep up and increase the pressure on our oppressors, using successful hits as confidence and experience builders. Let us hope then that no matter how many people they kill, there are more people willing to hit back harder.

But you are capable of doing it, to say that you are too scared to take part in illegal direct action is both very selfish and a COP OUT. What are the consequences we have to face against the consequences faced by those throwing youth in South Africa or a blacklisted worker in a privatisation conspiracy? I am scared everytime I think of doing something illegal, but I realise that my fear must be overcome, and if the consequences are massive, should that stop us?

"If the people take it upon themselves to engage in armed struggle, this would put far more pressure on the state than any public hostility, police harassment, arrests and defence campaigns. The loss of all our political lessons, gains and strengths." From an early class text.

Substitute 'armed struggle' for 'illegal direct action' in the above quote, and you get a picture of what the effectiveness is certainly shown by the amount of attention the authorities give us. We may not be ready for this attention, but we'll have to learn fast because time is running out. To use increased state attention as an argument against illegal direct action is pathetic and is nothing in itself - a self-congratulatory, non-effective ghetto of so many dreamers.

If you say you don't agree with illegal direct action, I suppose that's also a good reason not to do it. But ask yourself why you don't agree with it - respect for property? Even that of murdering bastards? That is the state's morality, not mine.

Anger at the shit around us is an honest and genuine reaction. It is wrong to pretend it isn't there - DIRECT THAT ANGER.

To change ourselves within is also vitally important, but it must not take priority over everything else, or else it becomes selfish or inward looking. Direct action must work hand in hand with personal and personal change. It is no use wanting everything if there is nothing better to replace it with, at the same time, if we don't put up resistance we are not going to be able to let up our own communities/lifestyles etc - the authorities won't let us (stone-henge being a prime example). We cannot look to a future time and ignore what is happening now.

As regards the problem of seemingly making token gestures, I don't really know what the answer to it is at the moment. More people need to do things more consistently (including me) - if you think you're doing enough, you're probably not. The idea of direct action must be spread to more people. Perhaps different groups/individuals should concentrate on certain types of targets. The ALF unashamedly concentrates on the property of animal owners, yet for their struggle we only one part of a large whole. We one can claim that their tactics are not effective - their enemies cannot sleep so easily. ALF action in Leeds comes over as more of a concerted campaign than a few token gestures - and good luck to them! They just get on with it, whilst we are bogged down in ideological arguments and theories. Perhaps we can all learn from this and stop the bickering and inaction - for whilst it goes on, people and animals are dying.

Don't pretend to change the world, do it! Believe in your own power to do change things. Hit the thing that hurts them the most.

MAXIMUM DAMAGE NOT TOKEN GESTURES!!!!

YOUR

We reprint the article alongside from the Leeds @ weekly 'No Limits'. Its a good argument and can go further. Its rare for us to criticize @s (we've enough enemies) but sometimes you gotta be realistic.

though the @s in Britain are growing fast more energy goes into making organisations (eg. Class War Fed, DAM, @ Communist Fed, @ passivist Fed etc) than doing any kind of direct action, legal or otherwise. Of course organising is important too, but from our actions in the last 10 years we might as well be a bunch of pacifist middle class wallies! And in bigger demos the @s have often 'bottled out', even sometimes when we vastly outnumbered the pigs. (eg. Homes for All Demo, failed to go thru a single line of cops to get to the squat gig. Or at the 3rd STC, when 30 punks covered with @ slogans were marched right in the copshop by a small no. of filth.)

Of course we've done better than that. Where we should be most effective is in small group actions in our own areas, where just a few activists can make a big impact, in things like squatting, claimants, local campaigns, attacks on sexists, racists, capitalists etc. In the past Crowbar has tried to support and encourage such local direct action as a way of setting an example and directly hurting our oppressors. 'Stop Business as Usual' was a good eg, and it should happen again. But its hard for an occasional squat paper to start calling international Action Days! And the 'national' @ groupings, like DAM and CW have been too busy with bitter infighting or publicity stunts to promote local action campaigns.

CW says 'armed struggle' is elitist & tactically wrong. Crowbar has said use only methods & weapons which can easily be copied. 'No Limits' says that even es seem to be collaborating, by our inaction, as this kip becomes a fascist pig state, openly fostering racist & sexist violence...Ever freer cops, new laws & no protest, cuts race attacks, muggings, Chernobyl, Libyan bombings, Star Wars, Chemical bombs & Cruise missiles..Are we totally programmed Zombies or what??

CROWBAR
 No. 47

WHAT IS THIS YOU HAVE DONE?

O LORD, THE SERPENT TEMPTED ME AND I ATE!

IF YOU EAT IT, YOU WILL BECOME VERY WISE AND KNOW ALL ABOUT EVERYTHING IN THE WORLD-TAKE A BITE!

THEY MADE GARMENTS OUT OF FIG LEAVES-

JUST ONE BITE! THAT CAN'T DO ANY HARM!

THE SERPENT WHO TRIED TO LIE TO GOD, BY TELLING HER LIES ABOUT THE FRUIT-

SERPENT! WHAT DO YOU WANT OF ME?

THAT FRUIT IS FORBIDDEN-BUT I TELL YOU IT IS GOOD!

Dear Crowbar

Of late, it has been noticed that very few wimyn have been interested in writing for Crowbar. I don't really believe that this is because Crowbar is made by little boys writing down their fantasies of Machismo. I think it's because the wimeyn are happy to keep their myn (if they can tolerate them), snugly off the streets, getting cold feet no doubt, in cosy rooms where they can develop meaningful relationships with other min-who need a drive behind such friendships.

I f Wymyn write for Crowbar-not only would they be invading the me ns world of squatting, but depriving themselves of genuine friendships with their own fryndz. Anarchy is all very well on paper-but what is the point if people cannot communicate on a real and personal level.

What is the point if after a night of debauchery you are too hung over or too stoned to do anything outside of your head. Life is real and so are wimyn-only myn haven't got there yet. In order for them to reach this level of consciousness we may well support them with their moderate fantasies. When they reach reality-then we can begin to challenge them.

Till then, Love and Peace, ♀♀. But only where it counts!

Dear Crowbar,

Here's some stuff you might like to print... (Loot for Africa Rave)... As far as @ mags most are good and well written, but they must promote ACTION (like Stop the World). It would be a good idea to get people to write their own articles and send them to as many @ mags as possible. This might break up peoples inertia and laziness, give writers a rest, (what about the typissed.ed.) introduce fresh debates and points of view, and give people the incentive to do other things on their own and not rely solely on other peoples brains.....

Solidarity with everyone @@@.

BEHOLD, YOU ARE BECOME ONE OF US, TO KNOW THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN GOOD AND EVIL-AND NOW-YOU ARE BANISHED FROM THE GARDEN OF EDEN! GO!

Dear Crowbar

I'm just writing to find out when the next Crowbar is out since I paid my £2.50 for a year's supply I've only got the "Space Shuttle and Zapping" copy.

In Norwich the "Stop The City" Trials are almost over, the 'guilty' have been dealt with the five pleading 'Not Guilty' are still awaiting trial.

Fortunately, no-one received custodial sentences, fines ranged from £75 to £250 and a couple of Three month sentences, suspended for Two Years.

The bust fund is still in operation and money would be gratefully received at: RESIST C/O

HAPPY VALLEY HIGH DAY

CATERHAM COULSDON.....August 30th.
On Corporation of the City Of London's Land.
Without the required permits or orders.
With all your help, we can defend the stage and win the day from the City scumsters!

Dear Crowbar,

Enclosed is a copy of "NYET PRAVDA", the first (I think) Crawley-based @ paper. The reason why it's up to No.7 already is because it's only recently changed from a subversive 6th form mag to a Crawley @ mag, to an entertainments listing mag, to 'Alternative Crawley', to a pavier's mag-the 'Crawley Roundabout' and is now officially underground as the above.

ANYONE IN CRAWLEY or surrounding area is asked/begged to buy a copy and to contact us with a view to doing some 'Deeds' in Crawley.

There is no local news in NYET PRAVDA yet as there is nothing to report so we would dearly like to get something going.

For the latest issue just send an (large) SAE to Broomhill House, Rusper Road, Ifield, Crawley RH11 0LQ.

Keep up the good work, if it wasn't for your covers Crowbar would be the best @ mag in the country! (Apart from N.P.)

USERS of a council's computer information service were asked to find it showing support for... Reading Anarchists.

The activists had tampered with the terminal to get their own message across.

But they claim you don't need to be a whizkid to fool around on Berkshire's mainframe computer.

The culprits declared: 'Berkshire's computer security is about as watertight as a teabag.'

In their alternative newspaper, Red Rag, the anarchists give a detailed guide on how to play games on the Shire Hall terminal.

DEFEND UPRISINGS PRISONERS

161 people, mostly black youths, have been charged after defending Broadwater Farm Est. against a mass racist police attack last year- Six are being done for 'murdering PC Blakelock. They are Winston Silcott 25, Engin Raghip 19, Mark Braithwaite, 20 and unnamed youths aged 13, 14, and 15.

These and the Brixton Uprising defendants are being helped by the Black Peoples Campaign for Justice Tel. 7330916. c/o Beehive Place, Brixton The Tottenham 161 are victims of a merciless campaign of terror and lies, raids, ransackings, random arrests, endless interrogations, beatings etc. by a rabid slaving racist police force off the leash and demanding life sentences. These innocent victims need your help now!

SAVE VIRAJ MENDIS

While Zola Budd, the white Sth African gets Citizenship in 10 days, Viraj Mendis, the anti-racist activist living here 13 years, is being deported to an almost certain death in Sri Lanka.

Viraj is the centre of a campaign against deportations, now running at 60 black people a week under Thatchers racist laws (five times what it was in 76)

Viraj has completed a protest march from Manchester to London, where he joined the Broadwater march and spoke movingly at the Finsbury Anti Racist Festival and a host of public meetings.

DEATH OF AN ASIAN

On Nov 7th 85 a gang of white racist youths deliberately ran over 3 women leaving Dartford College, killing Kalbinder Kaur Hayre (Kelly). Despite a strong campaign the cops have refused to charge any of the youths with murder or even to take statements from eye witnesses. One passenger in the van has been charged with manslaughter all right... James Avery, a well known vicious racist. There have been 3 pickets & 2 militant marches thru Dartford but more support is vital. Contact the campaign... Greenwich Action Committee vs. Racist Attacks

RACIST PRISONS

Black people are only 3% of the pop., but 23% of all in prison are blacks, who are also more likely to be beaten up by screws and suffer the zombie-drugs treatment, or get murdered like Cartoon Campbell, Paul Worrell, Winston Rose, Harold Roberts, Colin Roach, Michael Martin or Ensis Ryan.

Now its revealed that mental prisons, specially Tooting, are filling up with young blacks, lifted, sectioned, dumped and drugged on a large scale, as a 'punishment' or while the filth make up charges on them. Not only blacks suffer of course, 90% in prison are working class, most inside for 'crimes against private property'. Nick is just a way holding wealth and power from us by force and threats. But its black people who are getting the worst of it, and they too who have taken a lead in fighting back and defending their communities.

SPOT THE NAZI

A large group of fascist skinheads are living at Averell Rd, Finsbury Pk, N 15. They're lead by Nicky Crane, a notorious nazi activist. The house is used as a meet for nazis coming from Europe. Its protected by beards + closed circuit TV and is owned by John Hansen.
