MURDOCH FUKS DONKEYS!

NEWSPAPER TYCOON IN BIZARRE SEX TRIANGLE

YESTERDAY EVENING, in a late night raid on a printing complex in East London, the VICE SQUAD found Australian Press Baron Rupert 'Dingo-Dick' Murdoch, Metropolitan Police Commissioner 'Sir' Kenneth Newman and two donkeys practicing bizarre sexual relations.

We talked to the mother of one of the donkeys involved in this intriguing scandal last night, at her home in Dollis Hill: 'Mr. Donkey (Ali), said: 'I am shocked that Emily should be involved with that revolting pervert Murdoch, I mean to say, its just sex natural, isn't it?'

This incident gives a totally new meaning to the phrase 'The carrot and the stick.'

We interviewed the mother of Police Commissioner, Mrs. Park Strattonings Newman. She said: 'Daming Kenney told me it was all part of a Masonic Ritual and I see no reason to disbelieve him, and I'm sure his father would agree with me. That is, if anyone knew who he was.'

After a gruelling search, we failed to find any evidence of Rupert Murdoch having parents, but we have asked our correspondents down under to start looking under stones.

Rupert Dingo Dick Murdoch: Would You Trust This Man With Your Ass?

What about those nasty pickets... we say: 'What a picket!' anyway... Rupert pays me FIVE THOUSAND quid a week to scare, so sad that's it, I'm alright Jack! Guh, Sam, you're so smart, how do you do it? What is the secret of your success? 'Well, I just don't know, I think it must be my personality... oh, yes, and I've got big tits!' Cer, Strewth, Sam, that's telling em!
5,613,144!!!

WHAT a whopping success! Today we have printed more Suns than ever before. We have published a record-breaking 5,613,144 copies, just twenty weeks after moving to our new operation. More than 4,000,000 rolled off the presses at our new Wapping plant, and at least 80 MILLION copies made past the filthy, bastard, scummy pickets on time. Of that 1,000,000, over 600,000 got to the wholesalers, and we know for a fact that at least 100,000 got to the newsagents, although a couple were a tiny bit late. We couldn't actually find anyone who bought a copy. But a member of the EETPU executive said that they usually get one, to line Eric Hammonds letter tray.

Unfortunately, due to our new computers being a little hard to get used to, used to, used to, we forgot to include the middle 28 pages of this edition. Please bear with us until we get all the bugs ironed out. If you are worried about your bingo numbers, it doesn't really matter, as none ever wins anyway, except relations of that bastard Murdoch. You're fired, so you can't do that. I'm in the NSW fly-knocks.

WEATHER
(FOR PICKETS)
COLD: very cold, exceedingly cold, bloody freezing, my feet are about to fall off. I think I've got frostbite on the joint. I'm going to the dentist for a smile bandage.

(HOLDING)
Prolonged showers. Mostly consisting of bricks, bollards, bits and bobs.

HOLIDAY
For all you picketers, your Sunday money is a getting pretty thin at the moment, but it'll be a long time before your backs are to the wall.

Questions pay for all you expect it looking very good, but how are you going to spend it when you're dead?

ROADS TO MISS
The highway down Wapping seems like a good road to miss, if you know what I mean. For a thirty-five pounder, it might be a good idea to give some thought to your choice of transport.

IN THE CITY
These are a bunch of rich people with more money than stinking Senegal. And people here have a habit of going to the movies, for instance, when it is sometimes known as a movie. I don't even know what it is, but I go down there.

ON THIS DAY
First time we met a bloke who was a lump of dough still in the Australian Federal Police Force.

LION SHIT PUZZLER
FOR ZOO
Here has been some puzzling news at London Zoo this week. Known has been reporting that strangling people wearing lots of clothes, and avowed in submarines. I'm not a Sun news sheet, but I've been checking with the Portman's Egg of London Zoo and yesterday, "I can't imagine that. It's not like it is in the good old days. It's the same old larder."

Be he a note of warning wherever, 'Her God's' axes don't get in any of that. lions that get near my house, as they will no crazy and boil. One word of the crowd will really a house, and they may throw their club. Some one would get around this.

POPE HOMAGE TO 'SAINT' MURDOCH
COMPUTER LOCK UP
You'll be pleased to know that the journalists here at the Sunning Sun have finally learned how to use our new computers, our new computers, our new computers. But we should say that in our short yesterday for "Readers' Views: The XXX Senior Hot Video". It should have read, "Readers' Views: A Front in the TV." Apologies for that, we felt much better.
PLUCKY P.C.'s IN BRAIN OP MERCY DASH

Pictured above are the brave policemen from Lime Delta division, as they are rushed to Queen Mary's Hospital to have their brains removed.

The smiling boys have all just graduated from London Police Academy, and they are all looking forward to their big operation. "We've been through the mill," said Peter. "It's a tough practice, but we're ready to face the brain-tumors of tomorrow."

PHew WHAT A SCORCHER!

Today, in a surprise move, all the police in Britain resigned!

This was only 24 hours after a special hotline was set up by Chief Commissioner Blackman of the Yard, in which之意 was promised to any police officer who would call up and inform him of any other officer who had been beating up innocent people. The hotline was unbelievably busy and at a result all the cops in Britain were blasted into the air. The Sun says: "What are we going to do now, and who's going to stop them photos from coming in here and bashing our heads in, enough..."
MYSTERY BID FOR 1988 OLYMPICS

A late bid was made today to the Olympic Selection Committee, for the right of the 1988 Olympic Games, Britain only serious contender has been, up to now, the city of Birmingham. This has now been challenged by a mystery bidder, who says that he wishes to stage the games in the Docklands of East London.

The mystery bidder, thought to be a wealthy Australian, points out some of the many advantages of the new. It is close to airports and main tourist attractions, with a large number of hotels to accommodate the flood of competitors and spectators. The sporting site is presently being used as a factory (nom 1), but he anticipates no problem in getting rid of the existing workforce. The area he wishes to use is close to the River Thames and therefore such sports as swimming, canoeing, sailing etc. are well catered for. There are already some sports training going on, with the emphasis on shooting, javelin throwing, putting the brick, horse-pulling, moto-cross, and marbles.

We watch developments with interest.

SPRINTER FOR PRINTERS

The Scarroway Sun is pleased to announce a new addition to our sports staff, namely, Zora David. She has been training our journalists to run, run, and run again. Rumours to the effect that this is to help us get past the packets are absolutely untrue.
